THE SENIOR CLASS PRESENTS

THE
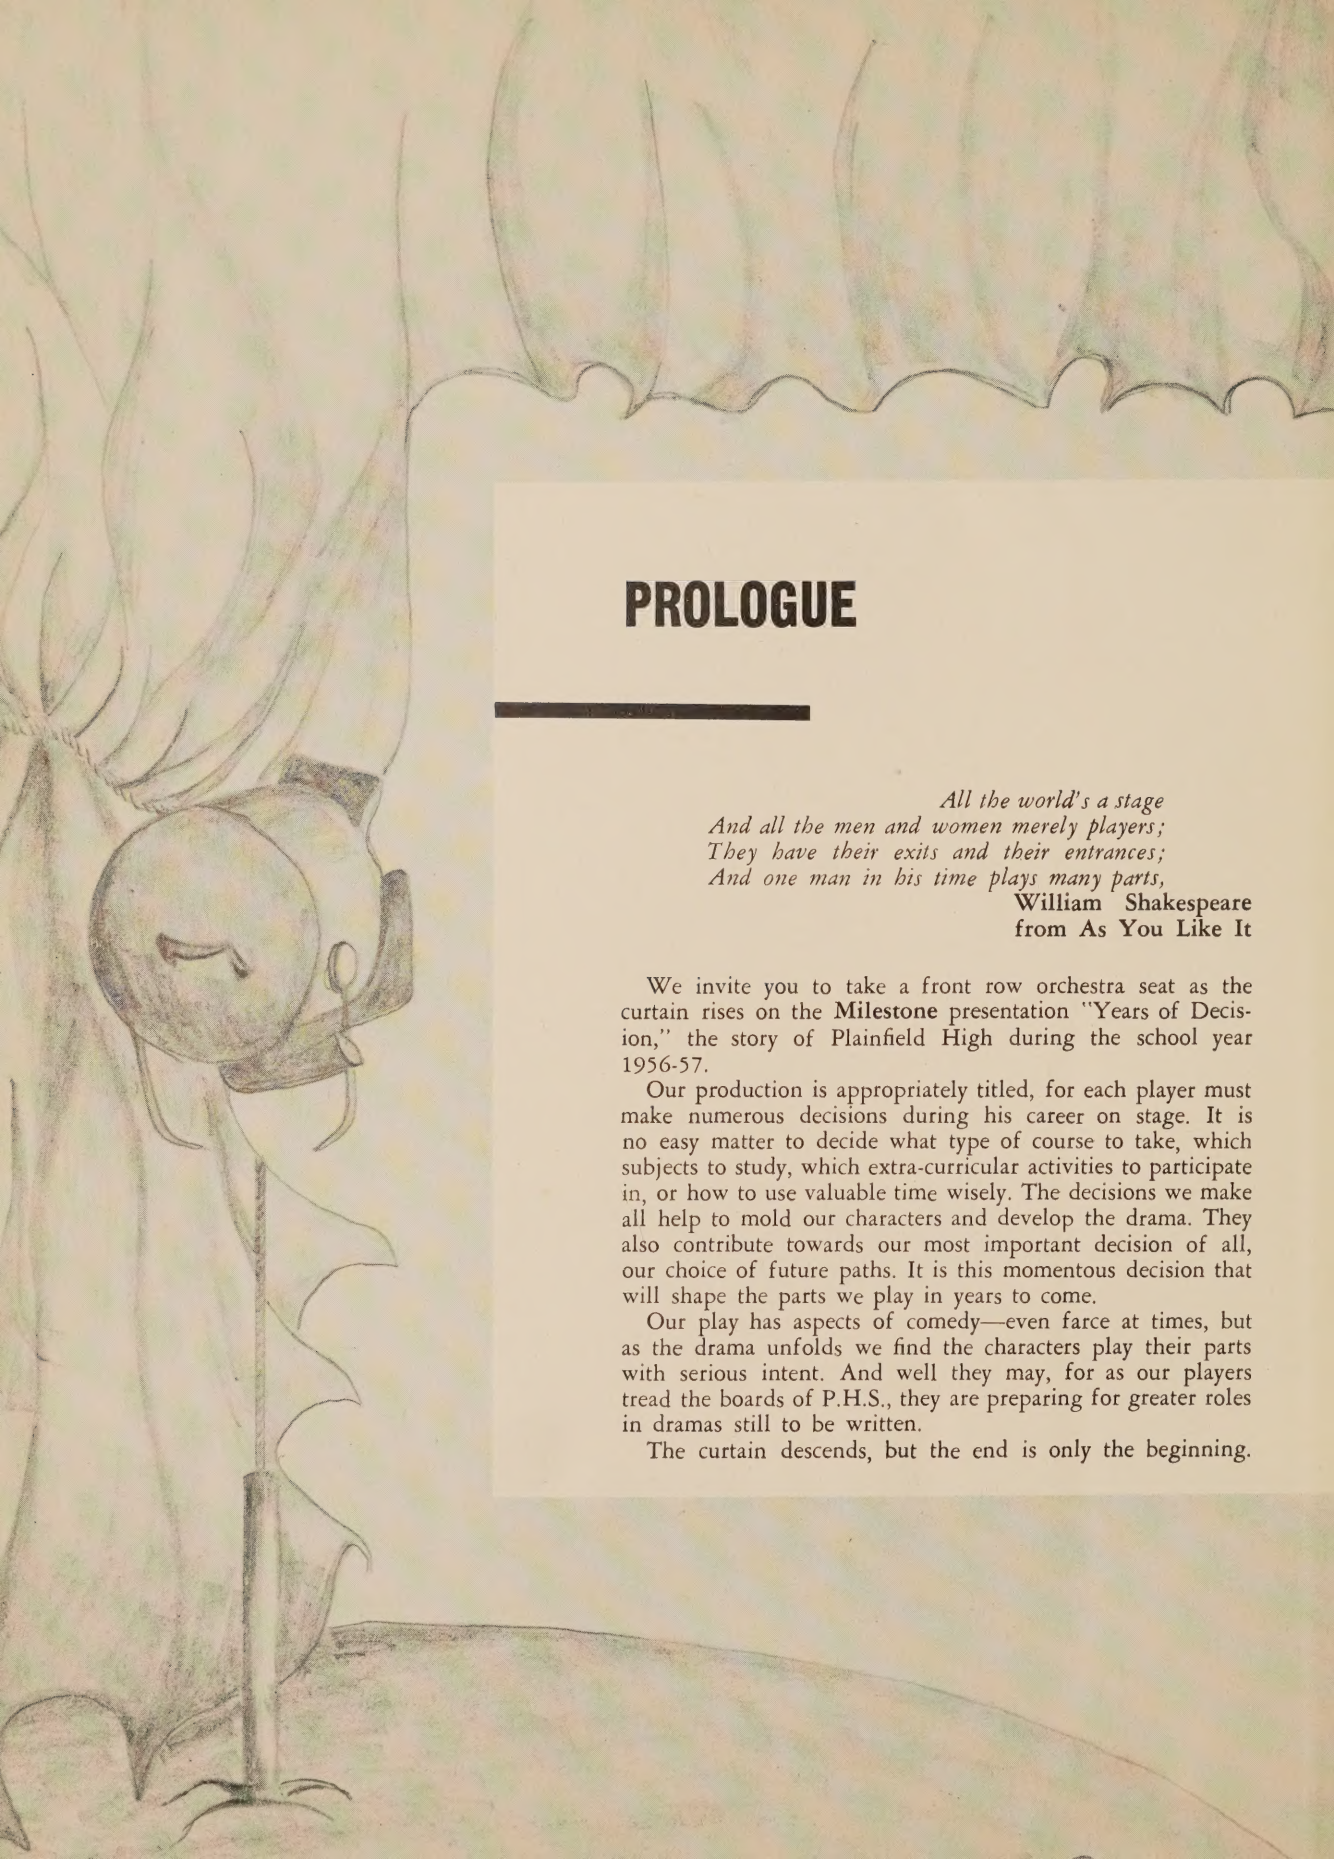
MILESTONE

PLAINFIELD HIGH SCHOOL PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY



PROLOGUE

All the world's a stage
And all the men and women merely players;
They have their exits and their entrances;
And one man in his time plays many parts,
William Shakespeare
from As You Like It

We invite you to take a front row orchestra seat as the curtain rises on the Milestone presentation "Years of Decision," the story of Plainfield High during the school year 1956-57.

Our production is appropriately titled, for each player must make numerous decisions during his career on stage. It is no easy matter to decide what type of course to take, which subjects to study, which extra-curricular activities to participate in, or how to use valuable time wisely. The decisions we make all help to mold our characters and develop the drama. They also contribute towards our most important decision of all, our choice of future paths. It is this momentous decision that will shape the parts we play in years to come.

Our play has aspects of comedy—even farce at times, but as the drama unfolds we find the characters play their parts with serious intent. And well they may, for as our players tread the boards of P.H.S., they are preparing for greater roles in dramas still to be written.

The curtain descends, but the end is only the beginning.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

If we have played our parts with some success these past four years, it is in large measure because of two who stood in the wings, ever prompt to give us our cues and ever ready to rescue us from our miscues. Let us hear your applause as we call into the spotlight two gracious ladies whom we have nominated for the class of '57 Oscar.

To RUTH LOSTBOURNE we express our appreciation for having kept watch over our entrances and exits. When we were tardy for our "on stage" signals, she knew it. When we did not answer to the roll call, her summons was inevitable. She listened sympathetically to our troubles. She smiled tolerantly at our amateur theatrics when our excuses were feeble. Her office was the scene of some of our best emoting, but we left it usually more determined to play our parts better in the serious drama upstairs.

To MARION NEWSON we voice affection for having taught us that the play must go on and that only through self-discipline, dedication, and unflagging effort could we expect a happy ending to our "Years of Decision." As a physical education teacher she taught us how to move about the stage with grace and vigor. As adviser to our troupe she led the applause when we did well, but she was our severest critic when we performed poorly. We sought her advice in Student Council deliberations. Her aid was indispensable in planning our off-stage celebrations. As we look back upon decisions wisely made, we shall remember who counseled us.

FACULTY

For rigorous teachers seized my youth
And purged its faith, and trimm'd its fire,
Show'd me the high, white star of Truth
There bade me gaze, and there aspire.

In Memoriam

G. CARL PERSINGER

As the class of '57 returned from summer vacation refreshed and eager to enter upon its final year in Plainfield High School, our high spirits were tempered by the knowledge that one of our most respected mentors, G. Carl Persinger, had passed away.

For twenty-four years he had devoted himself to teaching the pupils of Plainfield High School. All those who had the good fortune to be his students will remember his calm, deliberate, and precise demeanor. He was impatient with shoddy work, but always patient with his pupils. As he taught the skills that bring success in the world of business, he also set an example of integrity that inspired his students in all their future endeavors.

His leadership as head of the business education department brought success which is measured by the eagerness with which area business firms bid for services of graduates who have majored in commercial course. But his contribution to Plainfield High School and to the community went beyond this. His lucid mind and his habit of careful deliberation were so respected that his counsel was sought by his colleagues in school. He was an enthusiastic sport fan and a loyal follower of all Cardinal teams. His varied interests and abilities were evidenced by his participation in church work, scouting, music, and many community service endeavors.

G. Carl Persinger led a full and fruitful life. As befitted a teacher who had always given all his strength and energy to his duties, death came to him in the classroom as he was serving as principal of the Plainfield High Summer School. The class of '57 is grateful that it had the privilege of coming under his instruction and his influence.

Seniors Star In

OUR STUDENT DIRECTORS check the script: Tom Coyne, Jay Simpson, Jerry O'Keefe, and, Janet James.

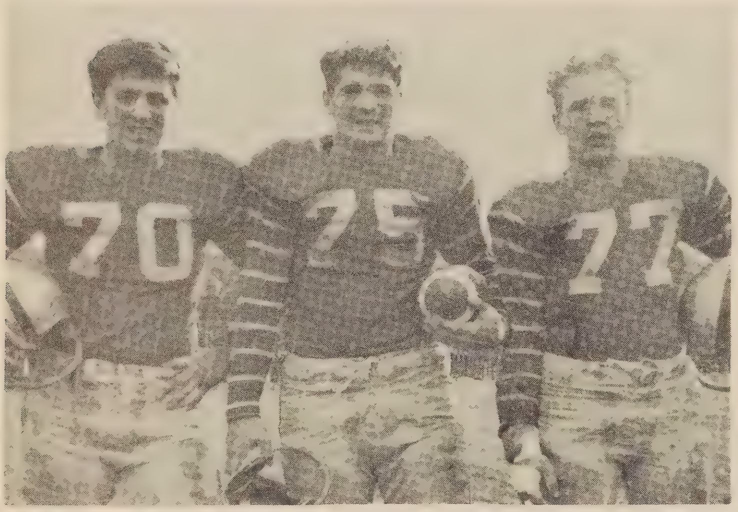
SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Critics have acclaimed "Years of Decision," a four act play produced by the Class of 1957, a tremendous success. We, the cast, take deep pride and satisfaction in its popularity. But, let us now look back to the years of preparation which made it the success that it is.

Act I — Under the guiding hand of William V. Sette, our director, we received our first walk-on when we presented the Freshman Party. It was a tremendous financial and social success, and we had a wonderful time getting to know the rest of the freshman cast. We had chosen for our first leads Claude Sutton, Sheldon Barroff, Janet James, and Sherry Welles.

Act II — As sophomore understudies we participated more actively in our growing production. After electing Bill Legat, Brian McKinney, Harriet Robinson, and Nancy Neilson our new leaders, plans were made for the successful dance we held for the entire student body.

Act III — Before we knew it, we had become junior leads. With the guidance of our new director, Miss Marion Newson, we helped present the Junior-Senior Dance and the Junior-Senior Prom. The P.H.S. pennants and emblems which we sold as our class project greatly increased our treasury. Bill Legat, Brian McKinney, Wanda Colvin, and Jerry O'Keeffe led us onward to our long awaited big role as seniors.



GRIDIRON HEROES! George Martino, Dom Dessino, Jim Caulfield.

"CHOMP, CHOMP, CHOMP, the boys are munching!"

WE STUDIED, TOO. Mr. Simpson simplifies for English 4 class.

NO SALES RESISTANCE! Tom Coyne, Andrea Dreyer, Jerry O'Keefe, Barbara Testut.

"Years Of Decision"

Act IV — Finally we found ourselves in the limelight, carrying the responsibilities of full-fledged senior stars. Besides our class directors, Jerry O'Keeffe, Tom Coyne, Janet James, and Jay Simpson, we elected Bill Legat, Bob Ley, Wanda Colvin, and John Baker as our Student Council directors; Eleanor Hirsch was chosen Editor-in-Chief of the 1957 Milestone, and Judie Chernus, Editor-in-Chief of the Entree. Everyone who attended our Senior Play, starring Connie Good, enjoyed many laughs with the "little dog." "Me and My Shadow," the dance we presented with our supporting cast, the juniors, drew us closer to the end of production. And then the grand finale was upon us as we gave our unforgettable Junior-Senior Prom. Both reward and sadness filled our hearts when we stepped down from the stage to receive our diplomas at the close of that last memorable act.

Our "Years of Decision" has ended a successful run, indeed, but we are not content to let it stop here. We have only begun to realize the importance of the decisive years which lie before us. As our entire company departs, each player going his separate way in search of a new and diverse role, we shall always carry with us fond memories of the experience we gained in the production of our show. We shall be forever grateful for the splendid direction we received.

ATTRACTIVE BOOK ENDS: Editors Marietta Grygent and Ellie Hirsch.

OFF TO A GOOD START: Bill Legat, Bob Testut, Al Galli, and Vernon Keller.

LEVITY IN THE LIBRARY: Bill Nichols, Ann Ciampa, James McCullough, Danny DiLonardo, and Ken Baker.

THE IMPORTANCE OF PULL: Sue Smith, Dolly Hard, Michael Stonehill, Mr. Kistler, and Tom Lopresti.

Suzanne M. Abel

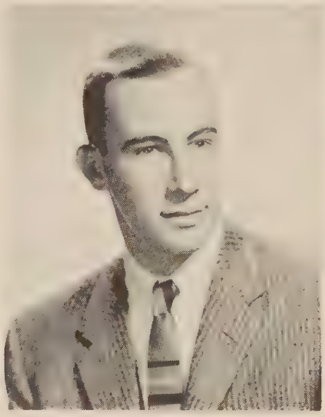
Sue enjoys listening to hi-fi, ice skating, and swimming. Our future nurse, who dislikes long lunch lines, was the treasurer of her homeroom for three years and participated in Nursing Club, Fashions and Personality Club, Girls' Chorus, and swimming.

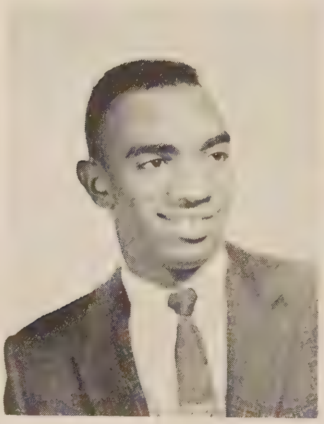
Jane Alexander

This musical senior, who enjoys playing the piano and driving, will always remember the P.H.S. Choral Festival. Jane, peeved by getting out of gym class late, has participated in Girls' Chorus, Mixed Chorus, Library Council, and Future Teachers' Club.

Irwin Barry Abramson

Irwin, who hopes to be a millionnaire at thirty, was a member of the Drama Club, Science Projects Club, and president of his homeroom. He enjoys golf, swimming, and loafing but dislikes women drivers. Irwin has also been on the swimming team and track team.



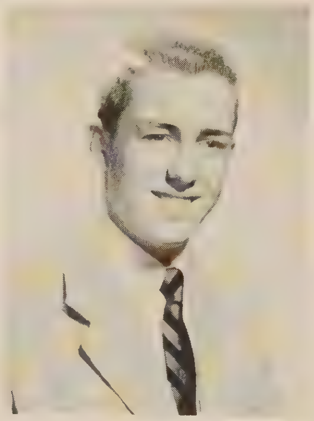


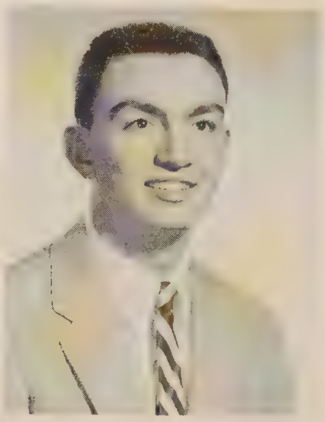
Ralph Ryan Anderson

We hope Ralph makes that million he is planning on. While at P.H.S. he has been active in Photography Club, Football Club, Boys' Cooking Club, and varsity football. Ralph, whose pet peeve is people who whisper, enjoys driving big cars and dancing.

Robert Terry Adams

Judges who revoke drivers' licenses peeve this senior, who plans to join the Marines and see the world. Bob, a member of the Swimming Club at P.H.S., will always remember the two hour break between exams.





John A. Antonopoulos

A career in engineering is ahead for this member of the class of '57. While at P.H.S. Johnny has participated in basketball, track, and Student Council. This sports enthusiast was also president of his homeroom.

Elizabeth Ahrens

Betsy enjoys dancing, but she is annoyed by "the shot-top." She has been active in Fashions and Personality Club, Entree, Understanding People Club, tennis, archery, basketball, Girls' Chorus, and Drama Club. Betsy would like to be a psychologist or a social worker.

Phyllis Elaine Anthony

A new addition to the class of '57, Phyl enjoys cooking and being with Danny. Phyl enthusiastically says she will always remember all the wonderful students she met in her senior year. While at South Plainfield High, this future nurse was a participant in G.A.A., Projections Club, and twirling.

Mary Ilene Axam

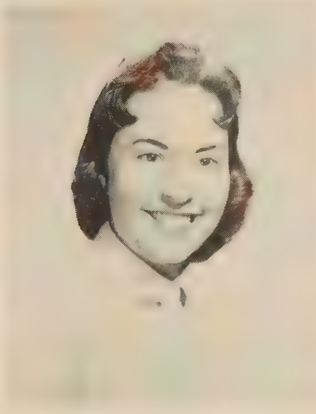
A career as a physical therapist is ahead for Mary, who has been active in Girls' Chorus and Mixed Chorus. The memory of "that beastly cold morning when someone pulled a false alarm" will remain with this senior who likes to sing, read, and giggle.

Jean Ann Banks

Humphrey, who hopes to teach nursing, enjoys the memory of Shawnee. Freshmen girls who chase senior boys rate low with her. Girls' Chorus, Mixed Chorus, Fashions and Personality Club, Nursing Club, and Junior Classical League have kept Humphrey quite busy in P.H.S.

Elinor Louise Babb

Mrs. McConnell's humor will always be remembered by this senior, who enjoys analyzing other people's problems. Elli was a member of the Nursing Club, Red Cross Club, Understanding People Club, and of the Milestone, where she headed the Art Staff. To become a social worker is Elli's chief ambition.

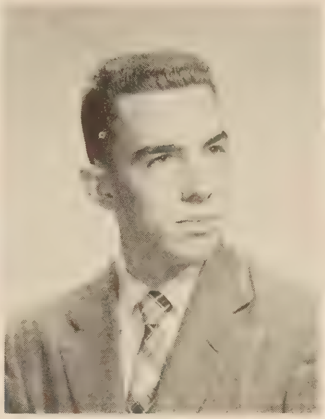


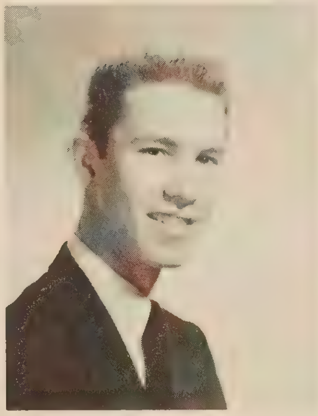
Barbara Baroff

This future psychologist enjoys "frolicking with the four filifers." Bobby, who will always remember her first choral festival, has been active in Drama Club, Entrée, Milestone, Student Council, Assembly Committee, and ushers. Party lines annoy this senior, and who can blame her?

John A. Baker

Our Student Council treasurer enjoys balancing the budget. John's main ambition is to win a cross country meet. Girls who smoke peeve this busy senior, who has been homeroom president and Class Council Representative and has also participated in cross country, track, Male Chorus, Mixed Chorus, and Boys' Ensemble.





Sheldon Baroff

This talented pianist, who hopes to become an M.D., is peeved most by hen parties and broken lockers. His fondest memory of P.H.S. is the Mixed Chorus morning rehearsals. Chorus, Boys' Ensemble, ushers, and Student Council have kept Sheldon busy.

Kenneth Baker

This senior, who will always remember marching at football games, enjoys reading and playing the trumpet. Ken hopes to branch out in some field of forestry.

James Richard Bechtle

This senior, who enjoys sports, will always remember the day he graduated from his Alma Mater. Beck's ambition is to attend college. He has participated in Boys' Cooking Club and Swimming Club.

Diane Joan Belkin

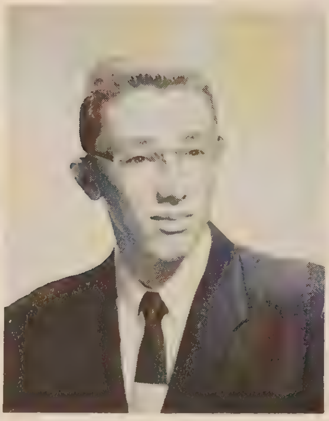
Dabbling in art is one of Di's favorite pastimes. The good times in art class will linger with this senior, who dislikes the mad scramble in sixth lunch. Di has participated in bowling, baseball, Sketch Club, News Bureau, and Milestone. With brush in hand, Di is off to a future in magazine art.

Charles Edgar Bertolacci

Driving, hillbilly music, and sports rate high with Chic, who wants to sell popcorn at Ebbett's Field and go to college in the future. While in P.H.S., Chic participated in track, Biology Club, Junior Classical League, and Recreational Games Club.

William R. Bellerjeau

Managing spring and cross country track teams hasn't prevented this busy senior from participating in Sketch Club, Boys' Cooking Club, and Radio Club. Bill dislikes basement homerooms, but he enjoys bucking the lunch lines. Good luck to a future civil engineer.



James Stephen Bicket

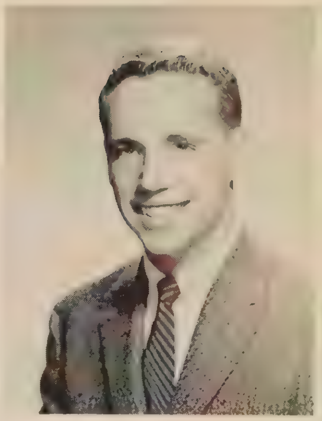
Jim, who is annoyed by one way halls and stairs, appreciates a good snooze. His activities in high school include freshman football, cross country, and Hunting and Fishing Club. Jim's ambition is to go to college.

Lena Ann Bencivengo

This Elvis Presley fan, whose ambition is to get her Mrs. degree in the near future, has participated in bowling and twirling. Lee's fondest memory of P.H.S. is her homeroom.

Thomas James Bishop

Loud girls annoy this water skiing enthusiast and Rock 'n' Roll fan who hopes to go to college after graduation. Tom's future lies in electronic engineering.

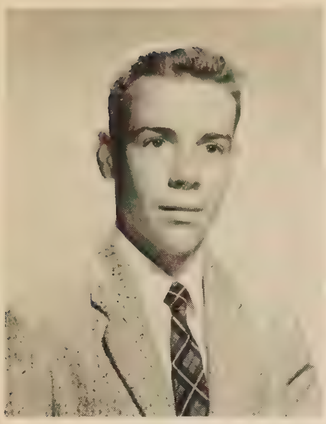


Peter Kevin Bennet

The two hours between exams is Pete's fondest memory of P.H.S. An athletic enthusiast, Pete divided his time among freshman football, jayvee football, Hunting and Fishing Club, and track.

Patricia Anne Black

Pat, who likes to talk on the phone, has kept busy in P.H.S. with the Fashions and Personality Club, basketball and Business Machines Club. Her pet peeve is conceited people, and her fondest memory of P.H.S. is graduation day. She plans to become a legal secretary.

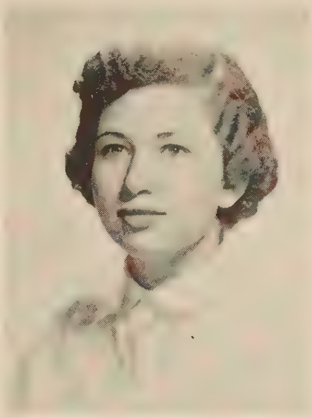


Robert Blackman

Watching the Brooklyn Dodgers win pleases this senior, who also likes to swim. Bob, irked by moody girls and bleached blondes, has participated in swimming, baseball, basketball, and has served as manager of the indoor and spring track teams.

Naomi Bloom

When not busy as feature editor of the Milestone, Naomi has participated in swimming, tennis, archery, and Drama Club. This senior, who wants to go to college, will always remember the "Whoopee Girls" of the Junior Play.

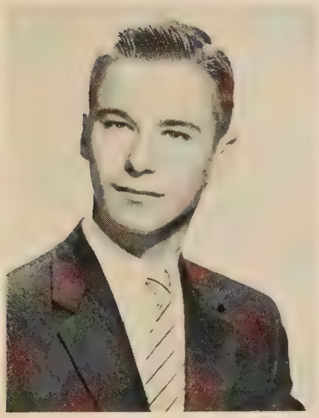


Shirley E. Boardley

Sherrie, who enjoys exercising her vocal chords, will fondly remember her senior year in P.H.S. This aspiring singer has been active in tennis, Science Club, and Entrée Club. She can often be heard calling "Excelsior." Good luck in that singing career!

Arlene Natalie Bohonan

Conceited people peeve Arlene, who enjoys riding in the "Grunings' express." She has been kept busy with News Bureau, Drama Club, Entrée, and Fashions and Personality Club. Arlene hopes to attend college. We wish her success in future undertakings.



Scott Kurtz Boice

Peeved by one-way halls and girls who smoke, Scott plans to study engineering at Lehigh University. He enjoys sports, eating, and sleeping. His talents were displayed in jayvee basketball, varsity baseball, and Math Club.

Bruce George Bottoms

Bott, an aquatic minded senior, enjoys water skiing, boatbuilding, and swimming. He hates (as do most of us) getting up each morning for school. Managing the track team occupied most of Bott's time while in P.H.S. He plans to go on to King's Point Merchant Marine Academy.

Elizabeth Bracey

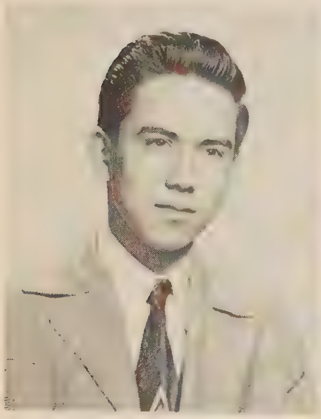
Bow ties and conceited boys irk Boop, who enjoys riding in the Maybelline. Boop, who has been active in Student Council, Swimming Club, and Typing Club, hopes to become a beautician.

Patricia Anne Brady

Patti, whose fondest memory of P.H.S. is sixth lunch, spends her time riding to Grunings in UA3238. She has participated in tennis, archery, and swimming. Patti, cocaptain of the twirlers, is peeved by conceited boys. She plans to be an accountant.

Herbert Edgar Briones

Driving and working occupy the spare time of this senior, who is kept quite busy with his schoolwork. We hope Herb reaches his goal of becoming a tool and die maker.

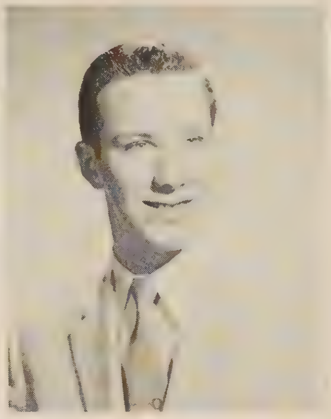


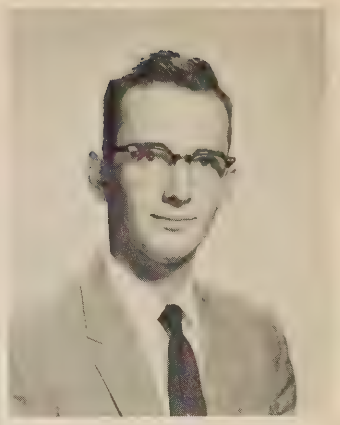
Jesse Bryce Brown

A Plainfield cowboy who enjoys handling firearms, Jesse is peeved by show-offs. The Science Research Club has kept our future scientist busy in P.H.S.

Norman Joseph Brown

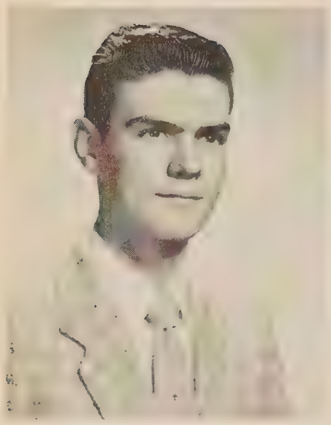
"Daddy Long Legs" enjoys dancing and Grunings. His fondest memory of P.H.S. is the congestion of hallways, but small girls annoy him. Norman found time to enjoy football and swimming during his four years. College and a career as a physical education teacher are his ambitions.





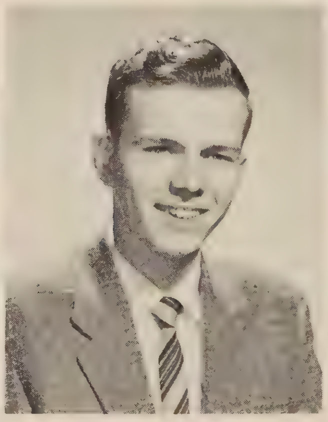
David Hunting Brunner

Dave can't stand gym, but lists Mr. Stampone's Spanish class as his fondest memory of P.H.S. When our future missionary is not working at the Acme, he can be found tinkering with electronic gadgets. Male Chorus and Radio Club have kept Dave busy.



Michael D. Bucciero

Playing cards with the boys pleases Mike, who is annoyed by gym. He has been on the Projection Squad for four years. Mike's ambition is to get through college.



Robert John Buczynski

Microphones and radios captivate this senior with an electrical turn of mind. Red looks forward to a successful career in the advertising field. We hope that after graduation his pet peeves of short lunch periods and short assemblies will be discontinued.

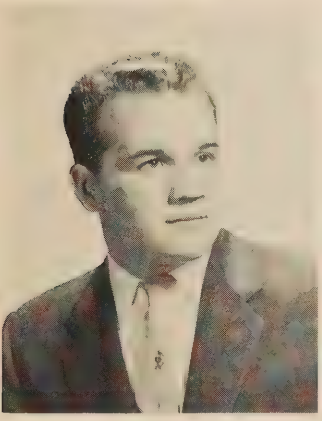
Barbara Elaine Burgess

Barbara is peeved by people who put on airs. She has been a member of World Friendship Club, Social Dancing Club, Fashions and Personality Club, Sewing Club, and Business Machines Club. The secretarial field welcomes Barbara.

Nancy Lee Burr

Fashions and Personality Club, Junior Red Cross, and Business Machines Club kept Babes busy at P.H.S. She enjoys dancing and listening to records outside of school and will never forget her freshman year. Babes is looking forward to getting the most out of life.

Richard Kenneth Capron
Little Richard, who didn't come to P.H.S. until his junior year, dislikes people who think he is a freshman. This future printer enjoys movies, bowling, and carpentry, and he likes to travel. His fondest memory of P.H.S. is making new friends.



James Thomas Caulfield
Bugging to N.P.H.S. during 5th lunch pleases Jim, who is peeved by teachers who give too much homework. He has been kept busy with varsity football and Football Club. We wish Jim luck with his ambition to play football for Notre Dame.

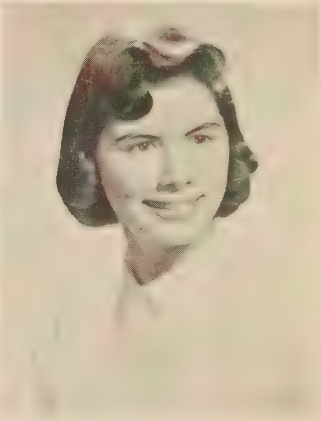
Carmella H. Carfaro
Boys who drive white 1955 Mercurys are Mel's pet peeve. When she wasn't holding down the seats in Grunings, she was active in the Social Dancing Club, Archery Club, twiriling, and Typing Club. Mel, whose fondest memory of P.H.S. is 5th lunch at the "P.T.," hopes to attend Katherine Gibbs Secretarial School.

Patricia Ann Caulfield
We hope that this future beautician has only cheerful customers, since she dislikes people who don't laugh. Although Patti is kept busy riding in a convertible with Al, she has found time to participate in the Social Dancing Club, World Friendship Club, and Typing Club.

Janice Elizabeth Cassett
This future secretary enjoys dancing, swimming, records, and movies; however, she is peeved by people who show off. While in P.H.S. Jan has been a member of the World Friendship Club, Personality Club, Sewing Club, and Business Machines Club.

Domenic S. Cepparulo
Don't forget P.H.S. after you make that million, McDall. This senior, who spends most of his time after school at Grunings, has our best wishes for the future.

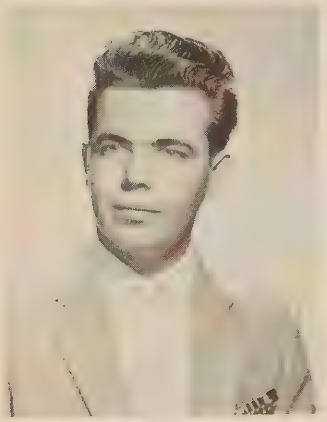
Sherrill Patricia Cassett
While at P.H.S. Sherrill has participated in the World Friendship Club, Fashions and Personality Club, and Sewing Club. Her fondest memories of P.H.S. are football games. Good luck to a future secretary.

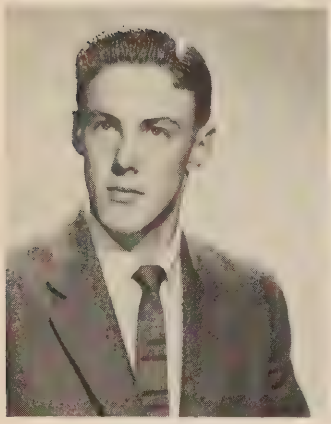


Judith L. Chernus
Judie, editor-in-chief of the Entrée, can be found "frolicking with the four flifers" when not in the Entrée office. She is peeved by walking into movies late, and her fondest memory of P.H.S. is make-up night in the Entrée office. Judie's ambition is to have four wonderful college years.

Fred Chyz, Jr.

Fishing is the favorite pastime of this senior, who dislikes girls who talk too much. Fred was a member of the Hunting and Fishing Club while at P.H.S. We wish him success in the future and hope he never falls for a line.



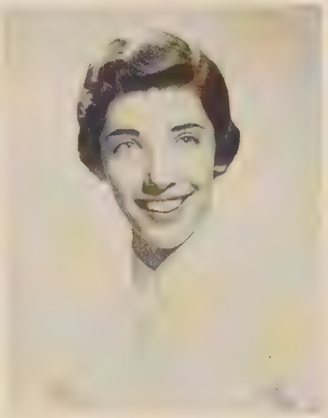


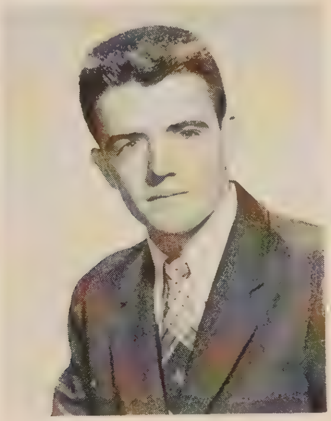
David G. Clash

This hillbilly fan, who enjoys playing the guitar, has been active in jayvee baseball, swimming, and Student Council. After graduation Dave hopes to attend college and play the guitar.

Ann Marie Ciampa

Sixth lunch peeves this senior who enjoys wearing tracks on that famous "overpass." Ann has been active in Nursing Club, Library Council, Girl's Chorus, Mixed Chorus, and Milestone editorial staff. Best of luck to a future nurse!





Maurice Edward Coffey

A career as a physical education teacher is ahead for Mickey, who has been active in baseball and basketball. This senior, peeved by tall girls, may often be found heading for the nearest baseball field in that '51 Chevy.

Virginia Ann Clare

This senior, who enjoys classical music, is annoyed by teenagers and spelling. Fred would like to attend Harvard Law School and someday have the money to support his tastes.

Alby Louise Syms

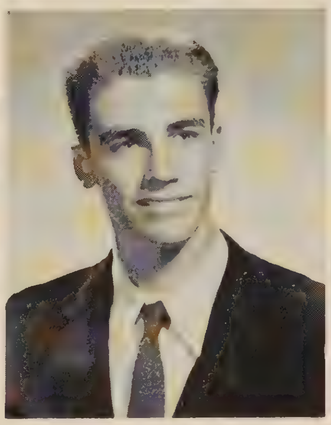
Kitty, whose fondest memory of P.H.S. is Miss Brown's chemistry class, is peeved by the freshmen in fifth lunch. When not kept busy with World Friendship, Nursing, and Typing Clubs, Kitty may be found sewing and listening to records. To become a registered nurse is her ambition.

Geraldine Maria Tanks

Dancing and waiting for "him" keep Jerry busy. People that scratch on blackboards with their fingernails peeve Jerry. She plans to become another one of our women in white.

Barbara Ruth Testut

This college bound senior is peeved by possessive people. Wonder why? Meeting the gang at Newson's Corner is Barb's fondest memory of P.H.S., and she enjoys family night in the Rin Tin. Drama Club, Class Council, Milestone, Cheerleading, Entrée, and French Club have kept Barb busy for the past four years.

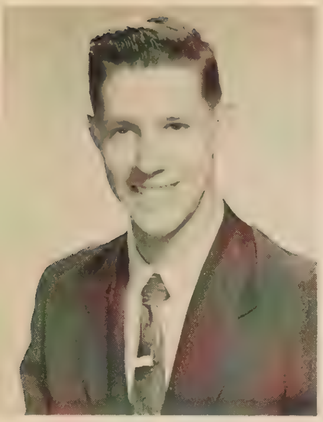


Robert Bruce Testut

Plucking the guitar at his leisure keeps Elvis happy. The 8:25 bell peeves our sporting senior, who will never forget the rugged football games. Drama Club, Student Council, baseball, track and varsity football have kept him on the go. This senior hopes to live a relaxed life in a house with push button controls.

John Charles Thurston

Seven-thirty A.M. piano concertos are the fondest memory of this busy senior, who enjoys playing golf and singing. J.C. is peeved by girls who smoke. He hopes to study business administration. Boys' Ensemble, Male and Mixed Chorus, Stage Electricians, varsity basketball, and tennis have kept J.C. busy.



Richard Vincent Tobin
This senior has been kept busy with Male Chorus, tennis, Social Dancing Club, Mixed Chorus, Chess Club, Boys' Ensemble, and Math Club. Dick, who fondly remembers his senior homeroom, enjoys fooling around with Hi-Fi and has an aversion for girls who smoke. A career in electronics brightens Dick's future.

James Edward Totten, Jr.
This electrical minded senior has found the one way halls much to his dislike. Jim has been occupied with Projection Club, Astronomy Club, and Radio Club while in P.H.S. Electronics school welcomes this senior after graduation. Don't get your wires crossed, Jim.

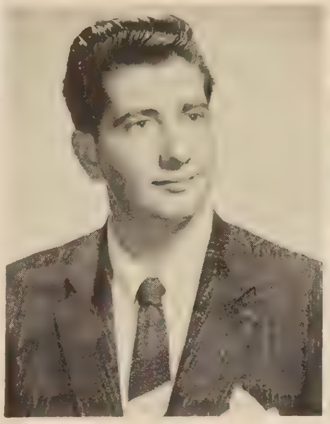
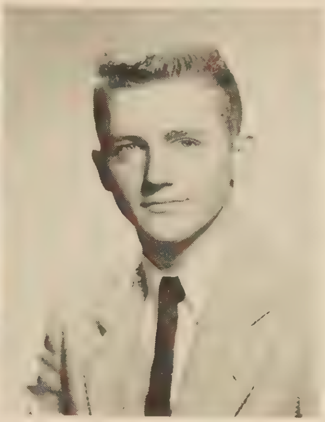
Martin H. Tolomeo
Drive-in movies rate high with Marty, but he dislikes stuck-up girls. We know this member of the class of '57 will have no difficulty realizing his goal of becoming a golf pro. Don't putt us off now, Marty.



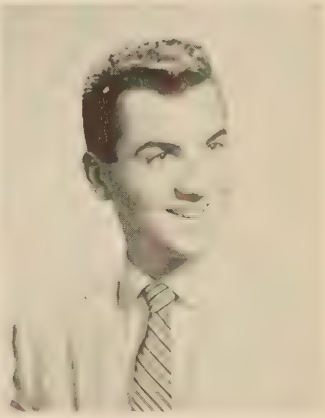
Edward C. Townley
Red plans to enter the Navy and learn a trade. He enjoys working on his car but hates to be out of gas. Red will always remember the fun he had in some of his classes. He has been kept busy by varsity swimming and football.

Allen D. Tompkins, Jr.
Bad Ted enjoys dragging from zero to sixty. This senior, whose fondest memory of P.H.S. is report cards, is peeved by people who have faster cars than his. Ted has been active in tennis and wrestling.



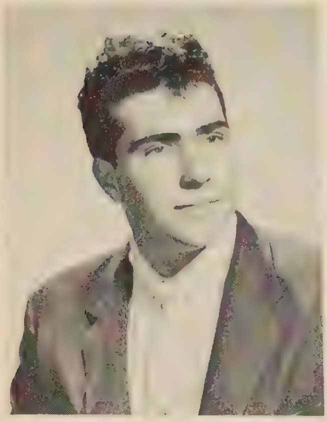
Josephine J. Trapicone
Jo, who is peeved by people who call her Josephine, enjoys being with Joe. Her fondest memory of P.H.S. is enjoying the distinction of being a senior. She has been active in Girl's Officiating Club, Typing Club, and Cooking Club.

Jenetha E. Tompkins
Jennie, who enjoys spending her spare time gabbing with her friends, is peeved by stuck-up people. World Friendship Club, Nursing Club, and Business Machines Club have kept this senior busy. Good luck to a future clerical office worker!



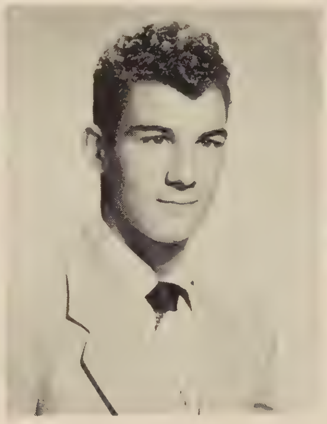
Robert Elliott Trautwein
Hoppy's favorite pastime is "apple jacking to crazy jive." This sportsman will always remember the day he sang in assembly. Football, Football Club, track, and Track Club are some of his high school activities. We hope your future as a disc jockey doesn't keep you spinning, Hoppy.

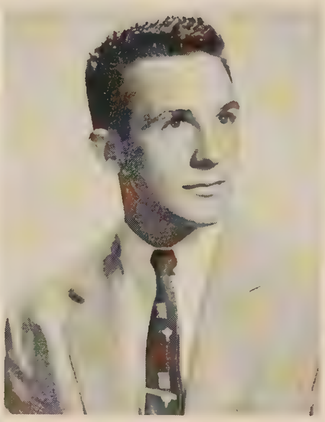
Thomas E. Trautwein
"Trout," who enjoys "cooling it with the guys at "Happy's," is annoyed by tall blondes. Football, wrestling, and track have kept Trout busy. To join the Navy, retire, and buy a share in Grunings is Tom's ambition. His fondest memory—the girl who graduated!



Joseph Vince Tufaro
Fooling with cars pleases "Big Joe," who is irked by work, school, and the Yankees. Joe's fondest memory of P.H.S. is his first varsity ball game. This major league aspirant has been busy with jayvee basketball and baseball, varsity baseball, and has served as homeroom president for two years.

Michael Troiano
Little rattles in a car gripe Mickey, who enjoys taking out pretty girls. Going to West Point is this senior's fondest memory while in P.H.S. Mickey has been active in varsity wrestling for four years. Mickey's ambition is to enter the service and learn a trade.



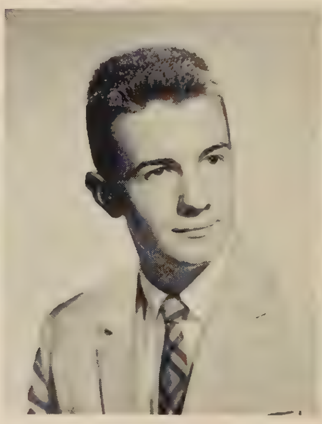


Louis Turi
To be a success in life is the ambition of this sportsman, who will always remember winning the State Wrestling Championship. Wrestling, football, and swimming have kept Lou busy here at P.H.S. Lou, who hopes to be a success in life, is peeved when his car runs out of gas. Really, Lou?

Eileen Deloris Trotter
Lee, whose fondest memory is her first day in P.H.S. after coming from Summit High School, is peeved by people who call her Shortie. This senior enjoys sewing and singing, and she wants to teach after college.

Janet Ellen Ungerer
Bugging out in the Kaiser is the favorite pastime of this senior. Janet has been active in Fashions and Personality Club and will always remember homeroom 11 and fifth period Modern Living. Janet hopes to be a success, and we wish her lots of luck!

Louis Thomas Tucciarone
This senior, who dislikes cleaning the fountain at work, enjoys spending his time playing baseball. Cross country and baseball have kept him active while in P.H.S. Louis's future plans include college.



Kenneth G. Van Reekum
Our Indoor Traffic Committee chairman has an aversion to women drivers. During his four years at P.H.S., Ken has been active in Key Club, Astronomy Club, and Junior Classical League. This senior, who hopes to own three big cars, plans to enter successfully some field of business.

Carol Ann Van Sant

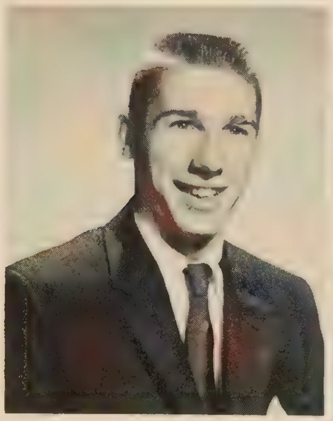
This future homemaker will always remember her driver training class. Carol Ann, who dislikes doing homework, spends most of her spare time writing to that special someone. We wish this member of the Class of '57 success in whatever she does.

Joan Allyce Viebrock

R.J., who calls her "Shorty," peeves this senior who will always remember freshman year at locker 1122. Bowling, Understanding People Club, and Social Dancing Club are among Joni Bebop's activities. Good luck on the bumpy road to your ambition—touring the U. S. in a trailer!

Effie-Ann Van Sise

Mrs. Stubb's homeroom is the memory that will remain with Effie in future years. To graduate is the ambition of this member of the class of '57. Effie, who enjoys watching Bev flirt, is annoyed by her kid brother. Good luck in the future, Effie.



Thomas Parker Walden

Tom plans to mould a future in the plastic industry. He will always remember Mr. Brown's pep talk. Dragging in the Cinderman pleases this senior, who is annoyed by a fast Buick. Tom, who will be remembered for his antics as the Plainfield Cardinal, has been active in swimming, jayvee football, track, and the Science Projects Club.

Ray Edward Varner, Jr.

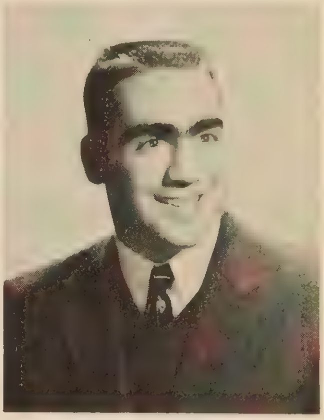
Ray enjoys riding in the '49 DeSoto and working on his '40 Ford. He is annoyed by the traffic direction downtown on Thursday nights. Varsity football has been a major part of his activities. Ray, who wishes to join the Navy, plans to take up electronics and work at Bell Telephone.

Susan D. Walker

Sooz, who remembers Newson's Corner, can often be found "cluttering up the Buttercup." While in P.H.S. she has been active in Girls' Ensemble and Chorus, ushers, French Club, Girls' Leaders Club, and Drama Club. This lively gal was also co-captain of our cheerleaders.

Robert J. M. Venezia

Stuck-up girls annoy Bob, who will never forget fifth lunch. In addition to participating in football and swimming at P.H.S., Bob served as vice-president of his homeroom.



Margaret Wallace

Margie enjoys family night in the Rin Tin. Her ambition is to go to college and then take a trip to England. From '53 to '57 her activities in school have included tennis, Modern Dance Club, French Club, art staff of the Milestone, and class council.

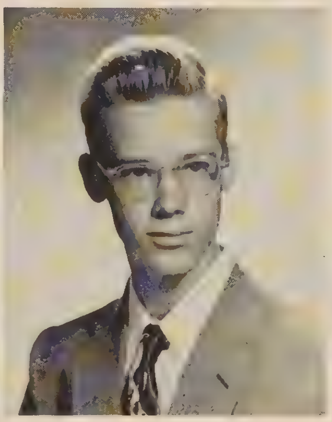
William Adrian Walley
"Running to Maplewood" and "scheming out of gym" take up most of Bill's time. Girls who smoke peeve this busy senior, who has been active in baseball, basketball, Chess Club, Entrée and Milestone.

Barbara Jean White
Those eight period gyms and getting up at seven peeve Bobbi, who will always remember the zany times in the P.H.S. library. Her activities have included Future Nursing Club, Library Council, and German Club. Bobbi's ambition is to become a nurse.

Allen Hunry Weber
Watching the Giants on television keeps Al happy, but he finds the one way traffic system a bit bothersome. To help prepare him for a rounded college life, Al has been an active participant in Social Dancing Club, Photography Club, French Club, and Junior Classical League while at P.H.S.

Harden H. White
White will always remember his four years at P.H.S. This senior, who spends most of his time on Myrtle Avenue, is peeved by girls with long hair. Basketball and varsity football have taken up most of White's time. We hope White succeeds in becoming a minister.

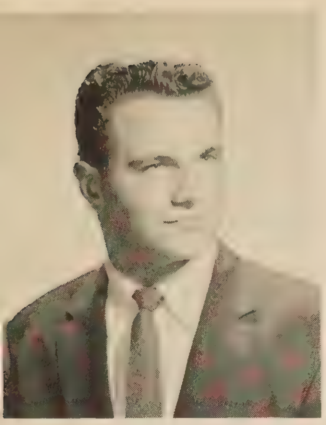
Carol Lee Weigmann
Drama Club, Nursing Club, Sophomore Class Council, and senior homeroom secretary have kept this busy senior on the go. Carol, who is annoyed by persistent, pompous people, enjoys "crawling in the kitty car." After graduation, Carol would like to do research work.



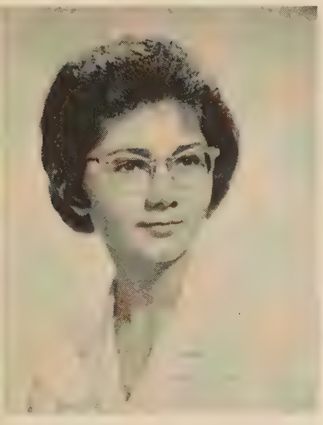
Walter W. Wilczewski
When not working on his '49 Chevy, Walt spends his free time hunting and fishing. The Navy blues are ahead for this member of the class of '57, who has been on the bowling team and basketball team while at P.H.S.

Nancy Carol Wetzel
If you want to be on the good side of Nancy, don't call her "Pretzel." Nancy has been freshman and sophomore student council representative. She would like to enter the field of merchandising. In her spare time, Nancy enjoys riding in the Grunings' Express.

Lorraine Marie Williams
Long cruises and short leaves bother Lorri, who enjoys the walk home from school. Typing Club and Recreational Games Club are among Lorri's activities in high school. To get married and be a good wife is the admirable ambition of this member of the class of '57.



Leland Manley Winkler
Girls who go steady peeve Winky. Freshman and sophomore homeroom president, football, baseball, and homeroom representative have occupied this busy senior's spare moments. To be a disc jockey is Winky's ambition.



Eleanor Anne Wood
Conceited boys peeve this rock 'n' roll fan. Ellie's fondest memory of P.H.S. is becoming a senior, and she hopes someday to get a pink and black El Dorado Cadillac convertible. Ellie was a participant in Friendship Club and Typing Club.

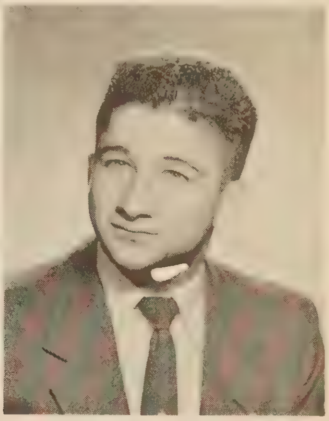
George F. Winspear
Forestry is the field George hopes to enter. No wonder he dislikes little girls smoking. "Elbow alley" is George's fondest memory of his Alma Mater. Basketball and track are among this senior's activities.

Susan D. Wright
When not waiting at the back of a long lunch line, Susan has kept busy with Student Council, Milestone, Drama Club, and archery. This senior enjoys having fun, and after college she wants to live a peaceful and contented life.

Mary Ann Witteman
"Harmonizing with the group" and driving the "D" are popular time consumers for Mare. Tall people who don't stand straight annoy this college bound senior. Girls' Chorus, Girls' Leaders Club, and ushers are among Mare's activities. We hope this senior achieves her ambition of becoming a success in life.

Joseph Yancey
Joe enjoys sports but is annoyed by people who brag too much. He participated in football and baseball. Joe's ambition is to go to college and afterwards to join the Air Force—high flying plans.

Anthony John Wood
Tall girls peeve Nut, who can often be found hanging around Grunings. While at P.H.S. he has participated in football and wrestling. We hope this future physical education teacher achieves his goal.



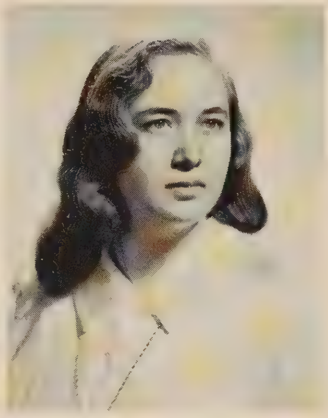
Portia Engela Yorlano
This senior, who hopes to attend Douglass College, is peeved by one way halls but enjoys listening to records. Portia has participated in World Friendship Club, Library Council, and basketball.

Betty Ann Young

This future nurse likes helping people to become interested in social affairs. During her stay at P.H.S., Betty has been active in Nursing Club and ushers. Miss Brown's chemistry class is Betty's fondest high school memory. Freshmen and fresh boys peeve this member of the class of '57.

Beverly Anne Zielenski

Carnivals and horseback riding keep Bev bouncing. Boys who can't drive cars had better steer clear of this senior, who participated in World Friendship Club. Bev has colorful ideas for the future — she plans to own a pink Cadillac.



Patricia Ann Matthews

Pat, a future teacher, enjoys reading and watching television, but she dislikes the one-way halls at P.H.S. At her former high school in Scranton, Pennsylvania, Pat was active in Junior Classical League, Spanish Club, Honor Society, and Future Teachers of America.

Audrey J. Jeffress

The memory of the P.H.S. football games will stay with Aud when she becomes a medical receptionist or a lab technician. People who aren't down to earth peeve this senior, who was kept busy with Nursing Club, Typing Club, and twirling.

Seniors Sparkle in Comedy Hit

With props in place, make-up applied, and a muffled bark backstage, the curtain rang up November 2nd on Act I of our delightful senior play, "The Little Dog Laughed."

Making their last entrance on the P.H.S. stage, a group of thespians, bill-boarding Connie Good and Marshall Macofsky, portrayed a satirical situation comedy. Connie, in the roll of Laurie Huntingdon, a psychologist home from college for the summer, decided to psycho-analyze her family, with hilarious results. The social lives of her poor parents, enacted by Inge Denuell and Martin Sobel, took a new twist, however, when persistent Laurie exposed the inner personalities of five of the town's most prominent socialites. But a happy ending was provided for all by the timely actions of Marshall, as Laurie's kid brother, and his equally astute girl friend, played by Wanda Colvin. The pacifying attempts of these two provided a little romance for Laurie as well—thanks to a medical student, portrayed by Irwin Abramson.

Although "The Little Dog Laughed" was a comedy, the cast undertook their roles with serious intent. Through the careful coaching of Miss Mixer, they worked hard and well together to be prepared for opening night. Intermingled with the tedious rehearsals, our star performers found time to indulge in a marshmallow fight, giggle over Miss Mixer's directions to "at least look like you're in love," and record the indoor track record set by Wanda and Irwin as they dashed from 160 to the stage for their "casual" entrance.

Yes, the little dog laughed, the cast grinned nervously, and we hope you'll smile with warm memories recalled by Act IV, Scene I of "Years of Decision."

UNDERSTUDIES

Understudies Reach For Stardom

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

As the curtain is about to descend on this, our junior year, we can thumb back the pages of our program — back to our very beginnings as a class.

To head the cast in our freshman year, we chose Peter Saidel, Ira Bloom, Susan Fickett, and Lanny Gartenburg. Directed by Edmond Lonsky, we began our plans to raise money for a scholarship which would be awarded to one of our worthy classmates at graduation.

As sophomores, with one year of experience, we felt even more a part of P.H.S.'s busy stage. Under the leadership of Peter Saidel, Bob Levine, Joan Desvernine, and Ginny Barlow, we continued making plans for our scholarship fund. We decided to sell sweatshirts to raise some of the money we needed. We also organized a scholarship committee to work out the many details of our project. The Sophomore Dance, "Leprechaun Leap," highlighted the year's social events.

Then the long-awaited day came. We were upperclassmen . . . at last! To substantiate our new titles we received our class rings, of which we were all very proud. We again selected Peter Saidel to play the lead and chose Buster Edwards, Dorothy Voogd, and Bob Levine to help support him. Along with the continued work on our scholarship fund, planning the Junior-Senior Dance and the Junior-Senior Prom kept us busy.

As we are now three-fourths of the way through our high school career, we realize that the best is yet to come. We have made many plans for the "final act" — our senior year. These plans, coupled with the enthusiasm that the class of '58 has thus far shown, are sure signs of a successful year.

Sophomores Step Into The Spot Light

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

As we take our curtain calls and advance from stage hands to understudies, we are already preparing for the last two acts of our important drama. As freshmen we appeared at P.H.S. stricken with stage fright, not certain of our entrances and exits, and nervous about our cues. With help from our competent director, A. Hamilton Otto, the rough edges were smoothed over, and we became more confident. We chose Bob Zagoria as the leading man in our freshman production, and Jon Schreyack, Ellen Romer, and Katie Crowe as featured players. The class of '59 began to take part in the varied activities offered to us. Our Freshman Party, held on December 2, was a sell-out and showed the rest of the school that we were becoming important members of a huge cast.

In our second appearance we became more confident and willing to take on the added responsibilities that we were expected to assume as sophomores. At the end of our tryouts, David Tebbs took over the job of president, and Herbert Smith, Jo-Ann Cowling, and Cynthia Barlow as vice-president, secretary, and treasurer respectively. We participated even more actively in clubs and sports and purchased the greatest number of S.A.T.'s. Two of the highlights of our eventful year were the sophomore assembly play, "When the Whirlwind Blows," and our Sophomore Dance.

With the proud knowledge that our first two performances were smash hits, we are eagerly awaiting the rise of the curtain on our junior year and finally star billing as seniors, clutching next to our caps and gowns that long awaited "Oscar."

Class of '60 Makes Its Debut

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

High anticipation and expectation were our feelings as the curtain rose, revealing a stage set for our freshman year at Plainfield High School. Awed by the maze of corridors, the honeycomb of rooms, and the hugeness of the building, we were overwhelmed by the hordes of upperclassmen that descended upon us after Freshman Day. Although we were subjected to the teasing of the older students, we were proud to be a part of the drama of high school life. We were, nevertheless, fortified with the thought that we would not be freshmen forever and that someday we, too, would tower over an incoming group.

We gained stature as we organized the class and elected our officers. The starring roles were assumed by Lee Smith as leading man, with Howard Feldman, Nancy Sargent and Judith Larew in supporting roles to aid our class in its first year of decision.

Many times during the year we turned to the wise counseling of our class adviser, Mr. Paul B. Chambers, who directed us successfully through Act One of our four act drama, and to whom we will look for further guidance until the final curtain falls at graduation.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is the organization of students representing the entire student body in its contacts with the faculty and the community. Its purpose is to provide opportunities and experiences which help achieve our school's objectives and develop competent citizens. The council is led by four officers: William Legat, Robert Ley, Wanda Colvin and John Baker, elected by the students. An executive committee is appointed by the president to carry out specific duties and plan an agenda for Student Council meetings. The membership is composed of representatives elected from each home room, who are to act as communication between the students and the council. Advisers are Miss Marion Newson, William V. Sette, and Joseph E. Passarella.

Student Directors Help

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

The Executive Committee of Student Council prepares the agenda for council meetings, discusses council plans and problems with members of the faculty, and executes school projects. The advisers to the committee are Miss Marion Newson, Joseph Passerella, and William Sette. The twelve members of the Executive Committee are the four officers of Student Council, the four class officers, and the chairmen of the four standing committees.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE
First row: D. Clash, W. Colvin, B. Ley, W. Legat, J. Baker, D. Herbst, D. Tebbs. Second row: Miss Newson, L. Smith, J. Coyle, F. Switky, Mr. Passerella. Third row: P. Saidel, J. O'Keefe.

USHERING SQUAD

The ushering squad, consisting of a group of senior boys and girls, is formed to help seat students for assemblies. Each member is assigned to specific places and rooms. There are two groups — one for each assembly.

The members of the ushering squad are chosen in the spring of their junior year by a vote among the teachers. Anyone who is interested fills out an application, which in turn is submitted to the faculty.

Among the qualities required in order to be chosen are: courteousness, reliability, a neat personal appearance, and faithfulness in attendance. The members are also expected to usher evenings for all school functions and also at outside activities when requested.

USHERS SQUAD
First row: Mr. Banta, C. Iannotta, D. Hard, J. Alexander, P. Ragland, S. Neill, M. Lambertson, C. Foley, W. Colvin, B. Baroff, J. Merritt. Second row: S. Rosenberg, M. Witteman, D. Herbst, J. Davies, B. Smith, J. McCarthy, A. Della Peruti, C. Kleinheksel, A. Dreyer, G. Kelly, P. Levine, B. Neilson. Third row: S. Walker, B. Young, J. Banks, A. Galli, J. Kramer, M. Regan, M. McCarthy, M. Grygent, M. Kersting, N. Neilson. Fourth row: J. O'Keeffe, I. Abramson, D. Dean, S. Baroff, K. Van Reekum, M. Korschun, D. Tobin, M. McCofsky, A. McIver, J. Simpson.

ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE

Under the direction of Miss Virginia Mixer, the Assembly Committee, a branch committee of the Student Council, is responsible for planning the assembly programs during the year. In addition to assisting with the productions, the members also evaluate and discuss each program. The members of the group are selected by the Student Council. Barbara Baroff served as chairman of the committee.

Keep the Show Going

ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE
First row: J. Golub, M. O'Brien, B. Baroff, A. Leap, M. Stonehill. Second row: Miss Mixer, M. Wing, D. Rohland, L. Gordon, J. Farber. Third row: M. McKay, L. Katrausky, J. Washington.

AIR RAID SQUAD

The Air Raid Squad, under the supervision of Henry Banta, is made up of boys chosen by Student Council and approved by Mr. Banta. Each boy has a post in the building, and during an air raid drill these boys see that all students are in their proper places and away from any glass. The boys also check to see that windows are closed and that students are quiet in the halls.

AIR RAID SQUAD
First row: H. Banta, J. Shrager, P. Saidel, G. Kinsey, J. Kramer. Second row: D. Hall, R. Jennings, B. Edwards, D. Clash, W. Nichols, J. Garrison. Third row: B. Wieder, B. Selfridge, G. O'Keeffe, W. Bareford.

ENTREE STAFF

The editors and reporters of the Entree are called upon to make many decisions during their dramatic careers in P.H.S. The staff must constantly decide upon the best way to arrange material, and each member must use his "nose for news" to find out and report the happenings of P.H.S.

The Entree, which serves as an announcer for the school and promotes student cooperation, gives its reporters first hand experience in producing a school paper under conditions similar to those of producing a daily paper. Under the direction of Miss Margaret Clawson, editorial adviser, A. Hamilton Otto, business adviser, and Judie Chernus, editor-in-chief, the Entree published eleven issues this year which were distributed to the student body and exchanged with other schools.

MILESTONE BUSINESS STAFF

Our hopes and plans for a "bigger and better" yearbook were dependent upon the success of the business staff in raising the required bankroll. Thanks to the salesmanship and ambition of Linda Schapiro and her staff and to the sage supervision of Miss Frances Lord and George Dixon, advisers, the solvency of our production was assured. The merchants of Plainfield were persuaded to advertise their wares, 150 patrons were enrolled, and 1,050 students put their hard-earned dollars on the line — sight unseen. The next and final task was carried out — delivering this copy of the '57 Milestone to you.

MILESTONE EDITORIAL STAFF

Amid their props of dummy, typewriter, and stacks of unidentified pictures and misspelled write-ups, the editorial staff of the Milestone spent many afternoons working together to compile an interesting and accurate history of our four act drama. Written and produced by Eleanor Hirsch and staff under the direction of James Berman, the staff members were well-versed in their respective roles. Lay-outs were planned, write-ups typed, pictures identified, and every page numbered and put in its proper envelope as the date for final production drew near. We have tried to capture in words and pictures the highlights of our four dramatic years in P.H.S. and, in particular, our grand finale.

GIRLS' CHORUS

One hundred eight girls comprise the Girls' Chorus, which gives the students an opportunity to sing and work together. Under the direction of Mrs. Vera Monez, the girls get together in smaller groups and sing two periods a week. Every year the Chorus, in holiday spirit, sings Christmas carols for the Old Guard and later joins them in singing traditional carols. The girls gave beautiful performances in the Choral Festival, several outside organizations, and in assemblies.

FRESHMAN DRAMA CLUB

Directed by Miss Arlene Rosen, the Freshman Drama Club participated in various activities which taught them the fundamentals of acting, dramatic techniques, and stage terminology. They developed confidence individually by performing skits before the group. The club also took part in the Interclass Play Contest and planned to see a Broadway show.

Dramatists Bring

The Sophomore Drama Club, sponsored by Robert Arthur, offers its members a chance to learn and practice the fundamentals of acting and staging a play. This year the club staged two dramas. Their assembly play, "When the Whirlwind Blows," the story of political strife in a war torn country, and "The Fifteenth Candle," the interclass play, concerning a young girl whose father wants her to leave school to work in a factory. The club also viewed a Broadway play.

JUNIOR DRAMA CLUB

This year the Junior Drama Club under the direction of Miss Rita Kramer has been kept busy with their annual assembly play. Inter Class Play Tournament, and viewing Broadway shows. During their club periods. the group studied stage terms, stage personalities, and general stage techniques. Also, they compared their productions with stage, radio, television, and movies. Led by their award winning president, Betty Jean Littlejohn, who says, "Perfection is the club's model," they are looking forward to a wonderful senior year in the Senior Drama Club.

Spotlight To P.H.S. Stage

SENIOR DRAMA CLUB

The Senior Drama Club, under the direction of Miss Virginia Mixer, presented "Sparkin" as its contribution to the Interclass Play Contest. This club acts as the leader of the other drama groups and helps them in their productions and activities. When they were not busy planning and coordinating the school's drama events, the members developed their techniques in different phases of acting. This year the club had twenty-eight enthusiastic participants.

Students Participate

OFFICIATING CLUB

The Officiating Club, sponsored by Miss Audrey Joyce, is a group of capable girls who wish to acquire the skill of refereeing all types of sports, including volleyball, basketball and softball. They attain this skill through small tests and a great deal of practice. The girls officiate in games classes, various intramural high school tournaments, and at some of the Plainfield elementary schools. President of the group is Janet Armstrong and their secretary is Diane Shoppe.

OFFICIATING CLUB
First row: N. Mondoro, B. Aprile, P. Miller, K. Wells, M. Perna, M. Bell. Second row: T. Cerillo, C. Gerdson, S. Lostbourne, B. Bradford, S. Young, P. Jackson, J. Randall. Third row: M. James, B. Ande, M. Branch, J. Crews, D. Chandler, M. Soell. Fourth row: Miss Joyce, J. Armstrong, P. Young, J. Woodard, A. McDonald, D. Shoppe.

FIRE DRILL SQUAD

The members of this group go into action each time we have a fire drill. They check to make sure that all doors and windows are closed and everything is done quickly and efficiently. Under the watchful eye of Henry Banta, these cast members play an important role in our drama.

FIRE DRILL SQUAD

LIBRARY COUNCIL

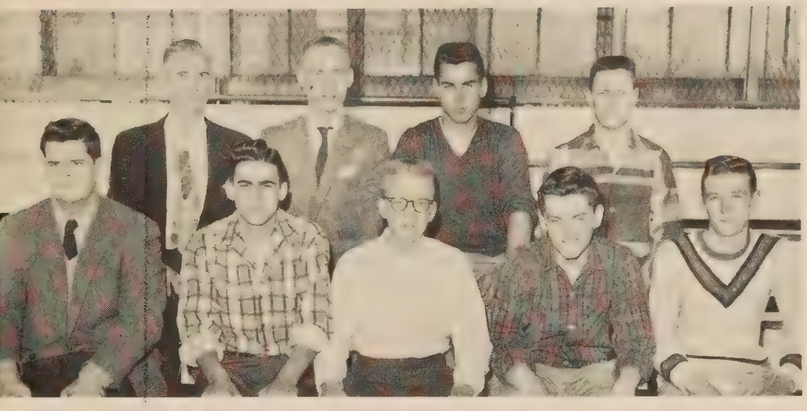
Members of the P.H.S. Library Council serve the school by freely giving of their time to help with the library work. Members of the council give up study periods and time before and after school to check library books and do any other work the club requires. The group, sponsored by Miss Josephine Miller, also studies various library techniques.

In Varied Activities



STAGE ELECTRICIANS
First row: L. Crawford, G. Sandelear, W. Roberts, R. Young, J. Hesse. Second row: Mr. Nelson, J. Thurston, J. Inskeep, J. Schreyach.

STAGE ELECTRICIANS

The Stage Electricians, engineered by Eric Nelson, have held the spotlight for all Plainfield High School events. These boys are well trained in their activity as demonstrated through their control of the lighting for dances, assemblies, talent shows, and special events.

RED CROSS CLUB
First row: M. Clawson, L. McNamara, J. Wickware, H. Waglow, P. Yorlano, R. Rhodes, C. Gillette, J. Frank, K. Sheppard. Second row: J. Jacoby, V. Clare, M. O'Brien, J. Scribner, C. Good, C. Duncan, S. Young, P. Jackson, N. Wissell. Third row: B. Danek, P. Wormley, S. Schmidt, N. Oakes, C. Cunningham, C. Frink, M. Regan, J. Danker.

RED CROSS CLUB

Among its many projects, the Red Cross Club has decorated Lion's Hospital, taken over the switch board at the Red Cross Center, made Christmas boxes for the Crippled Children's Home, organized and held the Junior Red Cross Drive, made Care Packages, and helped with the Handicapped Program. The club is under the direction of Miss Margaret Clawson.

NEWS BUREAU

The reporting of school events to the Plainfield Courier News is handled successfully by the News Bureau. Under the direction of Miss Alice Egan, this group keeps P.H.S. before the public by keeping the paper up-to-date on assemblies and all special events except sports.

NEWS BUREAU

Hall, A. Goodfriend, N. Ciampa, P. Wormley.

VISUAL AIDS CLUB

The Visual Aids Club, under the supervision of Howard Jump, acts as a school service in operating much of the visual aids equipment which is used to supplement regular class work. The organization also affords its members the opportunity to learn how to operate such equipment.

We Have Clubs for Every Interest

One of the most pleasant decisions we are called upon to make presents itself early in the fall. The activity program sponsored by Plainfield High School embraces a wide range of interests and offers to almost every student a chance to participate in an informal activity in correlation with his outside interests and hobbies. Ranging from Recreational Games Club to Old Testament Club, from Boys' Cooking to Creative Writing, a well planned and sponsored activity is presented to meet every interest and enthusiasm.

SO MAKE UP YOUR MIND

OLD TESTAMENT provides modern answers. Mr. George W. Lewis of the Temperance League addressing Miss Hageman's Old Testament Club.

BATTER UP! Mike Bucciero, Dom Dessino, and Tom Gottlick.

Among the clubs, which engage approximately 75% of our students on Wednesday and Friday, we have the following:

Members of the Photography Club, supervised by George Huettl, use their club period to discuss photographic techniques and show slides taken by participants. Pictures for the Milestone and Entree have been taken by this snappy group.

Putting into practical application their knowledge of fancy embroidery, needlepoint, and knitting keeps the Sewing and Needlepoint Club in stitches. Miss Lina Galushko sponsors this group, which has made among other articles argyle socks, jumpers, and blouses.

The Social Dancing Club is a popular choice for our underclassmen. Under the co-sponsorship of Mrs. Nita Bonte and Cortlandt Kauffman, members are taught the basic steps to such dances as the samba, fox trot, jitterbug, rhumba, and tango. Club periods whirl by for these freshmen.

The Hunting and Fishing Club attracts many of our sport enthusiasts. Clarence Andrews supervises these interested members, who learn and discuss various skills pertaining to the two sports.

Armed with bowl, batter, and recipe, the Boys' Cooking Club takes over the home economics room on Wednesdays. Mrs. Emma de Versterre helps these prospective chefs whip up some of their favorite dishes.

The purpose of the Track Club is to teach its members the fundamental skills in this activity. Prospective members of varsity track team, who are chosen from this group, are kept on the run by adviser Marshall Brown.

The meditative members of Edwin Faust's Chess Club participated in the Union-County Interscholastic Chess League. A chess tournament highlighted the club's activities, the winner of which received a trophy in honor of Dr. Levitz, a former chess enthusiast.

The Future Nursing Club, under the direction of Miss Sobolak, has taken a trip to Newark Beth Israel Hospital, where they saw the operating room, as well as the maternity and pediatric wards. Club participants have heard speakers from the Cancer Society, Navy Medical Corps, and they have seen movies on the subject of nursing.

SCIENCE Projects Club seeks solution.

That gavel banging every Friday morning belongs to Edmond Lonsky, sponsor of the Debating Club. Participants in this activity learn to organize their thoughts and present a cogent argument pro or con on any question. In this way they also learn to evaluate one another's speeches.

THE WORLD we live in. World Friendship Club maps plans.

WALTER CHERSACK, President of Somerset Bowmen, demonstrates for Hunting and Fishing Club.

¿Cómo está Vd.? These are very familiar words to Miss Rose Franco and her Spanish Club. Students demonstrating an interest in Spanish take over during club period with original crossword puzzles and games in this language. A performance put on by the Puerto Rican students entertained the other club members. ¿Comprende Vd?

Experts in the fields of cosmetics, designing, and hair stlying interest members of the Fashions and Personality Club. The girls welcome any advice or suggestions offered by these speakers. This neat group, sponsored by Mrs. Philomena Garretson, exchanges ideas in discussion concerning the essentials of good-grooming.

Student leaders and committees assist in planning the weekly programs of the Old Testament Club. In addition to the presentation of Bible stories, the club's activities include occasional speakers, slides, and movies. Miss Elizabeth Hageman is faculty adviser.

The Twirling Club is open to all girls who enjoy this activity, giving them an opportunity to improve their techniques. Members of the twirling squad are chosen from this club, which is kept spinning by Mrs. Elizabeth Persinger.

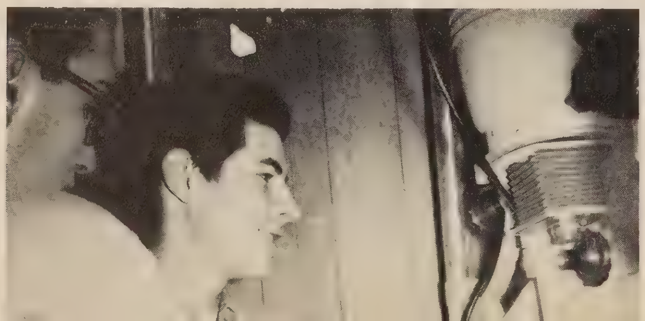
That click, click, click, is the Business Machines Club in action. Under the supervision of Mrs. Ruth Wyer, students participating in this course advance themselves in their class work. In addition, the members also learn the fundamentals in operating all seven machines this club includes.

Members of the Football Club practice plays in order to develop the skills of this sport. They are shown films of previous games and discuss all facets of football. Abe Smith helps the group carry the ball.

The Future Teachers Club, led by Miss Marie Maurel, gives interested students an insight into the problems and rewards of a teaching career. This year our instructors-to-be enjoyed three speakers and planned a trip to Montclair State Teachers College.

The purpose of the World Friendship Club is to acquaint members with people of foreign countries and their diverse ways of life. Directed by Miss Geraldine Cooley, members of the club viewed slides of distant lands, corresponded with pen pals, and enjoyed speeches by foreign students.

Recreational Games Club, sponsored by Miss Florence Firth, was organized at students' request. Members of this club engage in such games as checkers, monopoly, cards, and chess. The group's activities were highlighted this year by a canasta tournament.

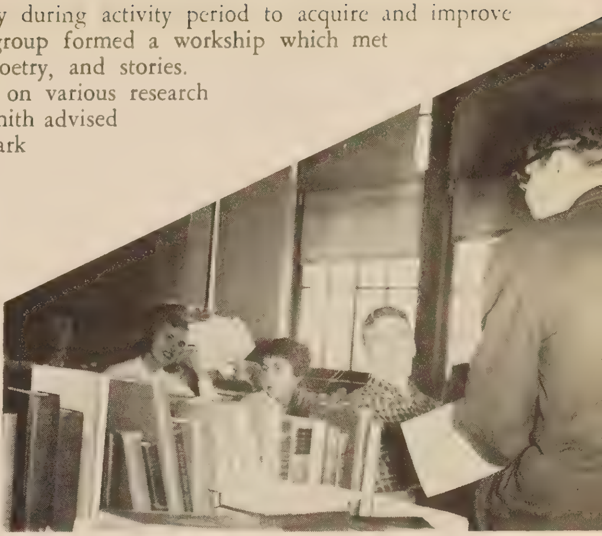


WHAT DEVELOPS? Photography Club enlarges its skills.

Participants in the Creative Writing Club work individually during activity period to acquire and improve writing skills. Supervised by faculty adviser Lance Jeffers, the group formed a workshop which met every Thursday to discuss work out of club, including drama, poetry, and stories.

To provide interested students with an opportunity to work on various research projects is the purpose of the Science Research Club. Arthur W. Smith advised this organization, which took several trips, including one to Newark Museum and one to Rutgers University.

Membership in Miss Pratt's French Club is available to all second and third year French students. Club members study French customs in addition to staging plays, organizing games, and singing French songs.



SEEKING INSPIRATION: Mr. Jeffers's Creative Writing Club.

GETTING the last word? Debating Club discusses burning issues.

RADIO CLUB boys keep in tune.

To study various aspects of school journalism and become part of the Entree staff is the aim of all Entree Club members. In preparation for this goal, John Simpson drills his interested participants in writing news stories, assembling features, and learning the art of reporting.

Members of the Sports Appreciation Club occupied themselves during activity period by viewing movies pertaining to athletics and discussing the many sides of sports of college, high school, and professional levels. The boys also appreciated their sponsor, Eugene Hubka.

The Typing Club, guided by Mrs. Adella Wotherspoon, is chiefly concerned in self-improvement. Individuals work on letters, homework, or personal material during the club period.

Sketch Club attracts many of our talented students. Under the watchful eye of Mrs. Elizabeth Geiss, club members dabble in pastels, water colors, pencils, and sketch still life and real figures.

Sponsored by Herr Closs, students interested in German culture and life find satisfaction in the German Club. Members enjoy learning games native to this country and communicating with German students.

Edward Burns's Swimming Club made a big splash in the pool on Friday mornings. These peppy boys, mostly freshmen, enjoyed in this club a recreational outlet for their energy.

To become proficient enough in the Morse code to acquire their Ham license is the goal of members of the Radio Club. Kept on their toes by adviser John Pearson, the boys anticipate broadcasting over their own school radio station.

Fifty-one clubs gave us opportunities to add zest to our school days and enrich our lives.

Grid Team Posts 7-1-1 Record

The Plainfield High gridiron men in scarlet, under the skillful coaching of Mr. Abe Smith, ended their season with seven wins, one loss. The city championship again went to Plainfield, and the Queen-City eleven was rated second in the state by the New Jersey Interscholastic Association.

Barringer 7	Plainfield 13

In their opening encounter the Smithmen got off to a slow start, but in the third quarter Dom Dessino, Plainfield's strong-man, charged through the Barringer line and continued to play in high gear to score twice. Bob Testut converted for the extra point, and Barringer went down to defeat at the Newark City Stadium.

Columbia 6	Plainfield 13

Plainfield's gridmen romped home with another lucky "13" after facing up to the Columbia High School eleven. The Cards scored both TD's in the third quarter with quarterback "Buster" Edwards carrying the ball on the first score, and halfback Dom Dessino making a line drive for the second score. Again Bob Testut made good the extra point.

Woodbridge 0 — Plainfield 20

The still undefeated Cardinas trounced the visiting Woodbridge Barons twenty to nothing and continued on their way unbeaten and unbowed. The first TD was credited to halfback Mel Folk, and kicking the extra point was Tom Butts. In the second play quaterback "Buster" Edwards hurled a long pass to Dom Dessino and the lead went forward. Halfback Jim Fania intercepted a pass successfully and scored again.

Perth Amboy 6 — Plainfield 30

Continuing on a winning streak, the P.H.S. varsity overwhelmed the Perth Amboy Panthers and charged to an impressive victory. Scoring were Dom Dessino, with two TD's, and Bob Testut, Mel Folk, and Joe Harris with one TD apiece. Leonard DiDario converted the extra point.

Asbury Park 14 — Plainfield 14

It was "even-Stephen" when the whistle blew ending the game at the shore stadium. Making touchdowns were "Buster" Edwards and Dom Dessino. Tom Butts kicked for the two extra points. However, the Blue Bishops managed to hold the line, and the game ended in a tie.

Thomas Jefferson 6 — Plainfield 13

The Plainfield varsity moved forward to victory again when they overcame their oponents from Elizabeth. Scoring were Dom Dessino and Tom Butts with a touchdown apiece. A strong defense proved a valuable asset in this win.

North Plainfield High School 0 — Plainfield 23

The Plainfield Redmen vanquished their friendly enemies from across the brook in a muddy encounter November 3rd, making it six winning games for the Cards. Carrying the ball across the line for a score were "Buster" Edwards, Dom Dessino, and Earl Palmer, backfielder.

Union 18 — Plainfield 13

The day of reckoning came for the stalwart Plainfield eleven on November 10 when they tangled with the Union High School Farmers. This was the only loss of the season for the Cards. However, the fine passing by "Buster" Edwards and the receiving by Tom Butts, end, and Ray Clark will long be remembered.

Westfield 6 — Plainfield 19

The traditional Thanksgiving Day rivalry between Westfield and Plainfield ended in victory for the Cardinals. Carrying the ball across the line for a TD were Mel Folk, Dom Dessino, and Bob Testut.

Card Quintet Nets Eleven Victories

Coach William Brann brought the Plainfield High cagers to a successful season of 11 wins and 7 losses. Six-foot-plus players such as Bill Long and Jerry O'Keefe proved essential to this year's season. Fine ball handling on the part of Tom Coyne and Jim Shrager contributed to the victories.

The team got off to a slow start but ended the old year by winning three games; the Cards topped Linden, New Brunswick, and Thomas Jefferson. We were one of the only two teams which beat Thomas Jefferson. Fred Roach, Cas Czeluscinski, Peter Liske, Richard Conroy, and Brian McKinney rounded out the Plainfield basketball machine.

In the exciting city championships Plainfield clinched the decisive third game played at neutral South Plainfield Gym. The Canucks were beaten by the Cards who came from behind in the last quarter by a score of 65-57.

Next year's outlook is bright as Fred Roach, Jim Shrager, Ed Cislo, and Peter Liske have profited greatly by playing ball on the same team with standouts such as Bill Long, Jerry O'Keeffe, and Tom Coyne. Other boys making last appearances for Plainfield on the basketball courts are: Richard Conroy, Brian McKinney, Cas Czeluscinski, and Scott Boice.

Coach Victor Liske, in his twenty-third season, commanded the mermen to their twenty-third consecutive winning year. In dual meet competition the swimmers beat eight teams and lost to only three.

In the Union County meet Card swimmers placed in seven of nine events, but were edged out of second place in the county by Pingry—the difference being 1 point. In the dive P.H.S. won the 1 and 2 places as Roy Nichols and senior Ted Smith came through. The other championship was captured by Marshall Macofsky, who retained his title in the 150-yard individual medley. Norm Brown copped second in the 50-yard freestyle and Ralph Lee took fourth in the same event; Ed Townley placed in the 100-yard breast stroke.

In the state meet the Cards bettered their position by two places, coming in fourth. R. Nichols was third diver in the state, R. Lee placed in the 50 freestyle, as did M. Macofsky in the 100-yard breast stroke. The climax came when the relay team of John Legat, Ed Townley, Marshall Macofsky, and Norm Brown swam record breaking time to take second place in the state. The relay team of Miller, Lee, Gartenburg, and Brown, took third in the 200-yard freestyle.

Seniors swimming for last time for P.H.S. are: Ted Smith, Mike Stonehill, Dick Cohen, Regis Lippert, Norm Brown, Irwin Abramson, Marshall Macofsky, Ralph Lee, and Ed Townley.

Wrestlers Have Best Season

The wrestling team for the 1956-57 season at P.H.S. came to a brilliant conclusion under the capable direction of Coach Abe Smith and his assistants Harold Rosenberg and Robert Bach. The final score for the home team was 9 wins and 3 losses.

Mike Troiano, wrestling in the 135-pound class, achieved distinction by annexing both the District and State Championships.

Those competing in regular competition were Mike Troiano, this year's star grappler, with Mike Groover getting honorable mention. Others participating were Robert Grey, 106 pounds; Mike Groover,' 114 pounds; Joe Turi, 122 pounds; Stan Christman, 129 pounds; Jack Horner, 147 pounds; Bill Dunn, 156 pounds; Jim Donnelly, 167 pounds; and Alan Leibowitz, heavyweight.

Competing for the last time were seniors Mike Groover, Mike Troiano, and Alan Leibowitz.

With the return of a major portion of this year's team as a nucleus, prospects for the next season are more than promising. Coach Smith will pin his hopes on mat men Phil Alpert, Bill Bareford, Bill Bauer, Gino DeMattio, John Nevious, Robert Cox, and Robert Zagoria.

First Row: Coach A. Smith, A. Wood, A. Leibowitz, J. Horner, M. Groover, M. Triano, R. Clash, R. Grey. Second Row: M. Glass, R. DeCamp, D. Hard, W. Bareford, R. Dunn, J. Donnelly, R. Cox, S. Tennis Team Wins 16

The tennis team, piloted by Arthur E. Smith, won sixteen matches and lost three. The team was second only to undefeated Westfiled in the Union-Middlesex invitation tournaments. Bruce Whitcomb played fine tennis against Westfield's Terry Bently, whom he defeated once and lost to once. The doubles team of Haight and Whitcomb defeated the outstanding Westfield team.

The honor athlete selected in tennis is David Haight, who played number one singles. The 1957 season looks very bright with the nucleus composed of Andy McIver, Roger Shwartz, James Shrager, Peter Saidel, and Bill Walley.

The 1956 Cardinal diamondmen concluded their season with six wins and ten losses. After winning the first four out of five games, the Cards slacked off and won only two more games for the season; one of these wins was over Sacred Heart in the Union County District Championships.

Joe Tufaro, Tom Grifa, Bob Waugh, Paul Rygiel, and Norm Fowler held down the infield positions; the outer gardens were patrolled by Joe Wright, Bill Walley, Joe Yancey, and Howard Runyon. Dan Costanzo and Gerome Gard handled the receiving chores, and on the mound were Mike Mansolino, Bob Waugh, Al Riddick, and Scott Boice.

The best game of the season came against St. Mary's of Elizabeth as Bob Waugh and Al Riddick combined pitching forces and shut out the visitors 13-0.

Coach Liddy says that the team next year will be as good as the pitchers are.

Baseball players making last appearances for Plainfield are: Bob Waugh, Paul Rygiel, Gerome Gard, Mike Mansolino, Norm Fowler, Tom Grifa, Joe Wright, Bob Wooduff, and Dan Costanzo. Dan Costanzo's name was placed on the honor plaque.

Track Team Wins

The Cardinal track and field men recorded an impressive season in the athletic chronicle of Plainfield High Schol. The trackmen went undefeated in dual meet competion; they captured the Union County track title.

In the State Meet the following boys scored: Bill Reese, V. Keller, Bill Legart, and Bill Long. Long tied for first place jumping 5′ 10¾″ in very unfavorable weather. Keeler, Hall, Roach, and Reese broke the 440-yard relay record at the Central Jersey Meet. Another record was set at the Penn relays in the mile relay. The team which set this record was Hall, Testut, Keller, and Legat.

The honor athlete this year is Verion Keller. He is also the recipient of the Bruguiere award. "Cy" Keller performed outstandingly in the Union County meet, doing a 51.5 in the 440-yard dash.

Mr. Brown, who coached Plainfield track team into third slot in the state, says next season will equal or surpass the 1956 season.

Union County Cup

The Cardinal distance men terminated their season with an impressive record of seven wins and only one loss. Plainfield defeated Union, Cranford, Thomas Jefferson, North Hunterdon, Regional, Metuchen, Rahway and Hillside. Their only loss of the season was at the hands of New Brunswick High School in a close twenty-nine to twenty-six meet.

The cindermen took first place in the Central Jersey Championships and a third place in the Union County Championship to highlight their season. Junior Mike Sabino broke our school record twice on the 2½ mile course. His best time and the new school record stands at 13:98 and 9.8 seconds.

Among the seniors running for the last time this year were Al Galli Bill Legat, Davis Deane, John Fitzgerald, Andy McIver, Bob Ley, Tom Walden, Mike Groover John Baker, Bill Farr, and Steve Scheckman. Although Coach Marshall Brown is losing quite a few lettermen, next year's season is brightened by the return of veterans Mike Sabino, Cecil Jones, Bob Clash, Ken Davis, and George Carey, to name a few.

GIRLS' TENNIS

In the early fall the P.H.S. tennis courts hummed with activity as a group of feminine sports enthusiasts concentrated on form and score. This year was a very successful season. About 125 girls went out for tennis, and 32 participated in the interclass tournament.

GIRLS' ARCHERY

Plainfield High's sharp shooting girls learned the fundamental skills of archery from Mrs. Ruth King. The girls who became proficient at the sport participated in tournaments, and the girl who scored the highest number of points throughout the season received an archery cup tokening her accomplishment. The interclass tournament is a competition between one skilled girl from each of the four classes.

Girls with an active interest in archery were chosen by the sponsor and the four "captains" to be members of the honorary Red and Blue teams.

GIRLS' SWIMMING

The highlight of the girls' swimming program comes toward the end of the season when an interclass swimming meet is held. Any girl who can swim well enough and has the desire may take part in this competition.

In the spring the pool is open to all girls and Mrs. Bonte, the sponsor, teaches the girls correct form for swimming and diving. Games such as water tag and water polo make a big hit with these underwater athletes.

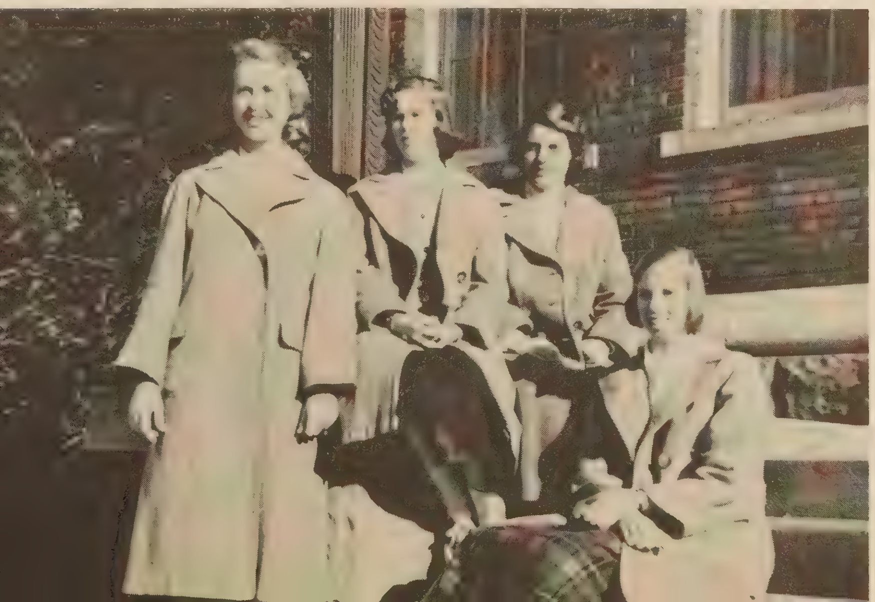
GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Mary Kersting Secretary; Mary Regan, President; Connie Clark, Vice-President; Nancy Oakes, Treasurer.



Every girl with an interest in sports is urged to join the Girls' Athletic Association of P.H.S. The group holds two mass meetings each year. One is in the fall; the other, held in the spring, allows the girls to elect officers who meet with the sponsor, Miss Audrey Joyce, every Wednesday. The officers perform such duties as making up a budget, organizing contests with other schools, and arranging schedules. This year several revisions were made in the basic constitution of the organization.

The G.A.A. has arranged a point system which enables a girl to accumulate enough points in any of the various sports to be eligible for an award.

Memorable Scenes

The engrossing scenes of our "Years of Decision" which we have tried to capture in the 1957 Milestone will help us recreate the highlights of these exciting times. When, in the dim and distant future, we chance to turn the pages of our yearbook with the sentimental yearning to recapture some of the zest and excitement of our youth, what climatic episodes of the school year 1956-'57 shall reawaken the fondest memories? When some scholarly researcher, seeking to discover the customs, styles, and fads that characterize the atomic '50's, directs his scrutiny upon the 1957 Milestone as a social document, what scenes of our drama will fascinate him the most?

Let us unfold the chronicle which we have kept of the past school year. Here are the events which crowded the stage of our P.H.S. drama, and here, too, are a few of the significant — and insignificant — events which were transpiring in the great drama of world affairs.

SEPTEMBER: After two months of summer stock, we finally reached the P.H.S. theatre . . . There were some new faces in the show — a few new directors and a new class of players . . . The stage was a bit different — one way corridors and shiny new room number plates . . . We were now under the direction of a new set of Student Council Officers . . . With the help of the band and pep assembly, the S.A.T. Committee introduced its campaign . . . The Democratic and Republican campaigns had also begun.

HIGHLY INFLAMMABLE: Cheerleaders Sue Walker and Andrea Dreyer set spirits blazing at pep rally for Westfield game.

INFORMAL FUN: Guys and gals get in step at Fall Mixer.

"PL-PL-PLAI" Band and cheerleaders whip up our enthusiasm at annual Pep Assembly.

OCTOBER: Old acquaintances were renewed and new acquaintances made for all S.A.T. holders at gala Fall Mixer, first social event of the school year. We rocked and rolled to Elvis Presley's "You Ain't Nothin but a Hound Dog" . . . Freshmen received a taste of high school politics when they held their first election of class officers . . . Central New Jersey Champ Mike Sabino ran a 2½-mile cross-country race at Warinanco Park and brought a new record to P.H.S. . . . The Wednesday and Friday Club Program began . . . Three new clubs — Creative Writing, Debating, and Science Research made their debut . . . October 18 — "Movie Studio M-G P.H.S." was the scene of the fall talent assembly . . . Anti-Stalinist demonstrations in Hungary sparked the beginning of a revolution.

NOVEMBER: Soviet troops opened an all-out attack to crush Hungarian revolt . . . "The Little Dog Laughed," a three-act comedy staged by the senior class was voted tops . . . Nation's voters made a momenteous political decision — the re-election of President Eisenhower . . . First report card tragedies were soon lost in the mad whirl of the Thanksgiving pep rally, the football victory over Westfield and the spirited Thanksgiving turkey dinner . . . The business staff launched the 1957 Milestone campaign . . . Student Council began the collection of cancelled stamps for the Piney Wood School.

DECEMBER: The nation expressed its good will toward men by opening its doors to additional Hungarian victims . . . Each homeroom undertook to adopt an underprivileged child or to buy Christmas dinner for a needy family . . . A twelve-foot tree in the front hall highlighted the school's Christmas decoration . . . Former P.H.S. star Milt Campbell # of 1956-1957

FAMOUS ALUMNUS: Milt Campbell, class of '53, tells assembled students how he won decathlon championship in 1956 Olympics.

won the decathlon gold medal in the Olympics held in Melbourne, Australia . . . Boys participating in sports received recognition at the sports award assembly. Dominick Dessino was named to the honor award plaque . . . Tying in with the Christmas scenes, "Mass of Shepherds," was presented by the French Club. We once again enjoyed the Choral Singing Assembly . . . It was also a decisive month for the seniors: Wanda Colvin was elected winner of the D.A.R. Good Citizenship Award. The Milestone was dedicated to Mrs. Lostbourne and Miss Newson . . . Class of 1960 held their annual party, "Winter Wonderland."

"NOEL! NOEL!" Mrs. Monez leads Mixed Chorus in medley of Christmas songs.

JANUARY: New scenes of the year 1957 opened with the stress and strain of the Suez Crisis . . . P.H.S. students were once again faced with the tragedy of report card day . . . (V neck sweaters are now taboo — crew neck are the craze) . . . The vocational guidance conferences assisted us in deciding upon a career . . . Britain's Prime Minister Anthony Eden resigned; he was replaced by Macmillan . . . A progression of songs enlightened our tragic and decisive moments: "Tonight You Belong to Me," "Cindy Oh Cindy," and "Heartbreak Hotel" were among the hits.

FEBRUARY: Class Competition was featured in the quiz show called, "You're On Your Own" . . . The Inter-class Play Tournament was won by the Sophomore Drama Club for its performance of "The Fifteenth Candle." Estelle Manasse and Sidney Rosenberg were chosen for the best individual performers . . . The annual P.T.A. show highlighted the Rutgers Glee Club. Proceeds went towards senior scholarships . . . Next came "Me and My Shadow," title of the Junior-Senior dance . . . Our breathing spell came with the mid-winter vacation . . . We returned just in time to help celebrate Brotherhood Week.

MARCH: The progress of our production was again evaluated with the distribution of report cards . . . Our guidance counselors were dispatched to aid prospective P.H.S. players . . . Our bowling team annexed the Union County Conference High School Bowling Championship . . . March 15, our band staged their annual concert . . . We elected Student Council officers who would guide the cast through next year's production . . . An award assembly was held for those in the cast who distinguished themselves in winter sports . . . The Sophs sponsored a sock hop, "Spring and Sway" . . . Calypso music was rated high.

CHRISTMAS GIFT: French Club presents reverent pageant for P.H.S. yuletime program.

FACING REALITY: Bill Slover views results of report card day.

APRIL: April Fool's Day provided many backstage jokes . . . Pixie haircuts are still in style . . . The important thing as we approached mid-April was that we were faced with important decisions . . . The freshmen, sophomore, and junior classes were deciding upon their leaders for the coming year . . . Our talent was once again brought to the foreground with the talent assembly.

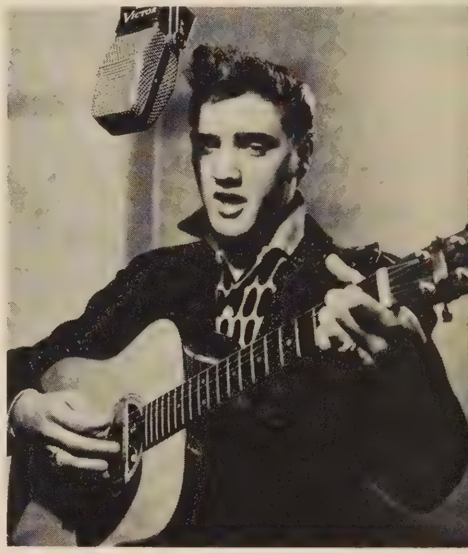
MAY: Hi-ho for the merry month of May . . . Bright colored cottons, smiles, and sunshine pervaded our stage of events . . . It was May Day for the seniors when the Hall of Fame was announced at the Senior Banquet . . . Keeping to the tune of times, the annual Choral Festival was presented on the 9th . . . Pastel gowns, white dinner jackets, and fragrant scents of garden flowers were all part of the setting for the Junior-Senior Prom . . . We relived our year at the Review 1956-57 assembly . . . The memorial Day assembly added a solemn note to the month.

JUNE: The struggle of cramming for final exams came at last . . . A week later it was all over . . . The seniors received their academic awards . . . On June 17 P.H.S. staged the outstanding event of the year — the Commencement exercises . . . For the seniors it was one of those rare moments of their lives. As they walked off the P.H.S. stage, the doors of the world were opening up to them . . . June 18 — report cards were issued for the fifth and final time of the school year . . . The frolicking freshmen are now sophs . . . The joyous sophomores are lower upper classmen . . . and the juniors? Why they're sophisticated seniors! !

As the curtain is drawn on the close of the last act, many of the principal players who have completed their apprenticeship on the P.H.S. stage will now move on to a greater production — a play which will continue into the eternity of life itself. For those who are returning for next year's production, another two months of Summer Stock is beginning.

Now, as the seniors prepare for their final fling at the shore, another school year has come to an end. May the years that follow be as enjoyable and as enlightening as the school year 1956-1957.

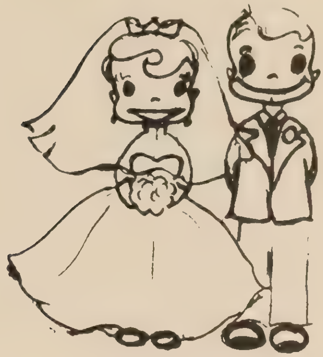
"O-O-O-O-H, ELVIS!! The rock 'n' roll set screamed with ecstasy when Presley let go with "You ain't nothin' but a houn' dawg!"



"BLOW, BUGLE, BLOW": Brian Smith, Director Clarence Andrews, and J. Senshyn make-up a terrific trumpet trio.

AN ELEGANT AFFAIR: Upperclassmen stepped into high society at the Junior-Senior Prom.

EPILOGUE



The drama is now over. Our feeling of enjoyment has been tempered by a pang of sorrow at its termination. Although it has concluded and the curtain has descended, leaving us as outsiders no longer a part of the scene on stage, we feel that this drama will remain a part of us. In years to come we shall reminisce and recall to mind the four wonderful acts of our "Years of Decision."

We go forward eagerly and confidently to assume new roles, to face new decisions. Our paths will lead us in different ways, but we are joined by common bonds forged by our years together in P.H.S.
